URIC ACID.

What It Is and How It Forms.

A Clear Description of This Most Subtle Enemy of Modern American Life—What a Prominent Professor Says.

A well-known professor connected with a leading medical college, in conversation recently made the following wonderful assertions:

"There is probably nothing which has ever been known in the history of the world that has caused more real misery to men and women than that simple and yet dangerous element called uric acid. This dangerous substance gets into the blood of men and women, and even children, even before they suspect it, and the havoc that it works is simply appalling. It causes rheumatism, neuralgia, gout and pneumonia. It is the cause of most colds and the actual source of nearly every case of grip.

"You ask how this dangerous acid gets into the blood? Very easily. The principal duty of the kidneys and bladder are to expel uric acid from the system. They fail to work very frequently, and, instead of being driven from the system, this poisonous uric acid goes into the blood. When once in the blood it ferments, it poisons, it causes unnumbered diseases and too often occasions death.

"It must be plain, even to a novice, that the only way in which to keep this acid out of the blood is to keep the kidneys and bladder in a strong, a healthy and a vigorous condition. This is the whole problem in a nutshell, and the man or woman who does this is invariably free from uric acid and the infinite troubles which it causes. I have never known of but one thing that will in every case drive uric acid from the system, and that is Warner's Safe Cure. It has been found by the medical profession to be possessed of properties unknown to any discovery of ancient or modern times. I have known of women who have been weak, sallow, run down, of men who have been debilitated and wholly unnerved, who are to-day pictures of health and strength, and they know as well as I do that the result is due to but one thing—the great cure of which I have spoken."

The great truths above stated are as certain as existence, and they reveal the real cause of most physical misery of the present day, and they clearly reveal the way of escaping from such misery. No man or woman at the present day should be the victim of uric acid poison. That it is very prevalent is most true, but to permit it to get into the system, or having gotten there to remain, is simply folly.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Toledo, O., March 24.

Weather Conditions.

With the exception of an area in the extreme northwest, the country is under the influence of a high pressure, which is now central over the southern portion of this state, and generally clear weather prevails. Over this area, which extends from Colorado to the Atlantic, and from the great lakes to the gulf, no precipitation is reported. The low pressure area is still central over that part of British Columbia immediately north of Montana where it has remained stationary for the past two days. The influence of this is felt as far south as South Dakota, and it will probably move eastward to-day and to-morrow. The greatest precipitation during the past 24 hours was 1.12 inch at New Orleans. Snow was falling at Quebec. The isotherm of 32 degrees passes through Montreal, Buffalo, Fort Huron, Duluth, LaCrosse, Sioux City, North Platte and Bismarck.

The indications for this vicinity are for continued fair weather to-day and Friday, with higher temperature.

READY TO FIGHT,

England's Navy Bound for Alaska.

Admiral Hotham Placed in Command.

Intense Feeling in British Circles.

Sir Charles Tupper at the Bottom of It.

An Interesting Review of the Situation as Booked at Through the Spectacles of Loyal Followers of Queen Victoria.

London, March 24.—It is stated to-day on excellent authority that Rear Admiral Hotham, of the Pacific squadron, has received instructions to protect the Canadian sealers in the event that no arrangement can be arrived at with the United States.

Lord Salisbury was at first inclined not to take this step and simply to leave the matter alone, letting the Canadians take their chances of escape from the American revenue cutters, and of litigation in the American courts.

To this Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian high commissioner, is said to have strenuously objected.

He pointed out that such a course would be in marked and dishonorable contrast to the strong foreign policy which has characterized Lord Salisbury's government in other regions of the world, and that a failure to protect British subjects engaged in an occupation, asserted by Great Britain to be lawful, would be a virtual abandonment of all claim to Canadian loyalty.

Sir Charles, it is stated by an eminent Canadian who is supposed to be thoroughly in his confidence, gave Lord Salisbury to understand that Canada did not ask for but demanded the protection of England and that nothing less than complete protection would be satisfactory.

Should the sealing issue result in war, the Canadians would be prepared to do their part and prove their loyalty on land; but they must look to England for defense at sea.

Sir Charles is said to have urged that England could afford a quarrel on this question with the United States, as it was a question regarding which the whole world would be on the English side as against the claimant to a monopoly of animals roaming the high seas.

He also argued that there would be no public sentiment in the United States behind President Harrison and his cabinet in raising the issue; that it was really a scheme on the part of a few very wealthy men, some of them holding high position, to stir up an anti-British feeling in order to sustain them in a monopoly from which they had already accumulated millions, and that he, Sir Charles, had reliable assurances, through special inquiries in different parts of the United States, that there was no general public sentiment behind the few men who were using President Harrison.

The American people, said Sir Charles, had no sympathy with monopolies in Alaska or anywhere else, and when the whole hideous history of the Alaska monopoly was laid bare, as it inevitably would be if the quarrel was pushed much further, the American people would be astounded.

Sir Charles is said to have pointed out that the natives of the Aleutian islands, although nominally entitled to all American rights, were virtually the peons of the Alaska company, as they were prevented, while in the islands of which they were natives, from pursuing any other work than such as the company gave them to do; that if the people of the United States understood this fact in all that it meant for the natives they would demand that the monopoly be swept out of existence, and that no part of the territory of the United States should be controlled by a chartered company.

The American people had spent thousands of millions of dollars, argued Sir Charles, and sacrificed hundreds of thousands of lives to put an end to slavery, 30 years ago, and they would be amazed, he declared, when they fully comprehend that they were invited to go to war in order that a form of modified slavery might be maintained in the Aleutian islands, and a part of the ocean made a monopoly for the benefit of a few millionaires.

For southern slavery the excuse was advanced that a vast section and millions of people were kept in prosperity by its existence.

For Aleutian bondage, and the ocean monopoly pretense, there was only the excuse that a few Americans were made rich by it.

It was not even an American industry; for the sealskins, whether the seals were caught by Americans or Canadians, were sent to England to be dressed by British labor and skill.

Absolutely the only people in America interested in the monopoly of the seals, the Aleutians and the sea, were the millionaires alluded to, of whom one was believed to be high in official circles in Washington.

Such is the statement made with some warmth by one of the leading men of Canada, as embodying the arguments urged upon Lord Salisbury by Charles Tupper.

Lord Salisbury is known to have great confidence in Sir Charles, and to take his counsel frequently, not only on Canadian, but also on American affairs.

It is said that Sir Charles has convinced the premier that, in upholding the right to catch seals in the open sea, he will have not only the unanimous and loyal support of Canada, but also the sympathy of a majority of the American people, and that the real cause of the warlike utterances at Washington is the influence of the representatives of the fur seal monopoly.

Advices have been received to the effect that the Watersprite, the flagship of Rear Admiral Hotham, is now on its way to North Pacific waters, and that a strong fleet will be marshalled at Esquimault to be ready for any hostile demonstration on the part of the United States.

The afternoon newspapers to-day make Bering sea the prominent topic.

The Star, radical liberal, says: "Lord Sailsbury knuckled under to Blaine in 1891 and declines rightfully to consent again to play into the hands of a ring of sealers who have influence with the American congress. Moreover such a course would be an injustice to Canadians."

The Evening News, says: The prospect justifies grave alarm. Much allowance must be made for hectoring and bluffing in view of the coming presidential election. Certainly Great Britain will not be bullied into the acceptance of a modus viveadi by threats that all the military and naval forces of the United States will be called upon to sustain American claims.

The Pall Mall Gazette, liberal, says: "President Harrison is riding a high horse again. The difference will, of course, be adjusted, and it is only worthy of notice as an instance of presidential posing prior to an election."

The St. James Gazette, tory, says: "It is impossible not to feel anxiety lest naval officers in a remote sea, safely distant from the telegraph, will lose their heads or tempers. The United States is not going to war with us over the seals, but it must be confessed that matters are very uncomfortable and rather alarming."

The Globe, conservative, laughs at the United States senate being panic-stricken over hearing of President Harrison's heroic resolution, which they tried to keep secret. "Happily," says the Globe, "there is not the slightest chance of a serious result to the issue. The president's bluster is merely an election appeal to a certain class of electors, and especially to the Irish, who love to see Great Britain insulted."

He Wants to Know.

Ottawa, Ont., March 24.—The Hon. Mr. Reed in the senate yesterday inquired if the British or Canadian government is to bear the expense of indemnifying the British sealers for damages sustained after being warned against killing seals in the high seas last year.

Premier Abbott gave little satisfaction in his reply. He said he was not in a position to state how negotiations were proceeding. It would not be difficult, however, to divine what Canada's attitude would be on that question.

LLIKE MANY GREAT MEN,

Senator Hill Will Talk Too Much for His Own Good.

New Work, March 24.—A special to the World from Columbia, S. C., says: While passing through South Carolina last Saturday Senator Hill was entertained by the editor of the Winnsboro News.

Speaking of Speaker Read's ruling in the Fifty-first congress, the senator said he had never taken any stock in the democratic criticisms of Mr. Reed's method of counting a quorum.

"In fact," said he, "Mr. Reed stole that ruling bodily from me. I ruled the same way against the republicans when I was president of the New York senate."

Senator Hill said he might have used this as capital for himself but he saw that the democratic party was being benefited by pitching into Reed's position and he did not say anything about its having been stolen.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

A Big Sensation Caused at Rockford, Illinois.

Rockford, Ill., March 24.—A sensation was created here yesterday by the institution of divorce proceedings by James H. Patterson against his wife, who is prominent in W. C. T. U. circles and county superintendent of jail work.

He alleges that she visited persons in the county jail, made the acquaintance of disreputable characters, consorted with them and invited them to the house, to meals, and to stay all night, against his request, and for a long period of time he claims she has clandestinely given herself over to iniquitous practices and habits in utter disregard of her marriage covenant and duty.

He alleges that she used charitable work as a pretense and cloak for her crimes.

VICTORY FOR MACKEY.

The Mobile and Ohio Railroad in Court.

Mobile, Ala., March 24.—The case of Nichols against the Mobile & Ohio railroad, which is a suit to oust the present directory of the road, came up for hearing yesterday before Chancellor W. H. Taylor, of Marion, upon the main suit.

The directors' counsel moved to postpone the hearing of all motions filed by the stockholders on the ground that the latter were in contempt of an injunction issued by a circuit judge of Montgomery in holding an election for directors.

The chancellor decided that the stockholders and directors elected by them were not in contempt and that he would hear their motion to dissolve the injunction. This is regarded as a victory for the so-called Mackey stockholders.

KILLED FOR A WRONG.

THE PRUSSIAN CABINET.

It Has Been Patched Up for the Time.

The Grievances, However, Are Still There.

Hatred for the Kaiser Shown on All Sides and the End of the Trouble Has Not Yet Arrived.

Berlin, March 24.—The Prussian cabinet is now substantially readjusted.

Count Von Eulenburg has accepted the post of Prussian premier, and Dr. Bosse, secretary of state of the office of justice of the empire, has been appointed minister of instruction and medical and ecclesiastical affairs.

Chancellor Caprivi retains the office of Prussian foreign minister, together with that of chancellor, so that he will be in the peculiar position of chancellor with supreme direction, under the kaiser, of imperial affairs, while at the same time the subordinate in the Prussian ministry of Count Eulenburg.

It is not believed that Caprivi will retain even the chancellorship any longer than he thinks necessary in view of the condition of the kaiser's health, and that his tenure of that office will end within a few months.

The kaiser has written an autograph letter to Count Zedlitz the retiring minister of public instruction, couched in most gracious language, expressing deep regret for the loss of his services, and adding the hope that he will always place those services at the disposal of the country.

The strain has not been much relaxed by the change in the cabinet. The ultramontanes continue sullen and angry, and the language uttered by some of their leaders is little short of personal insult to the kaiser, although veiled by the mention the government.

They claim that they have been dishonorably deceived, and that the government has secured their support under false pretences for measures that could not have carried without their votes.

They also threaten retaliation, and vow that hereafter they will be found steady and uncompromising opponents of the government policy.

These extreme utterances are stimulating a reaction against ultramontanism, and there is already talk of legislation to curb what the Protestants denounce as the aggressive and grasping spirit of the Roman church. It is not believed, however, that the kaiser would sanction any reactionary legislation.

THE WOOD-PARNELL CASE

It Has Been Settled Outside of Court.

Sensation Hunters Get Fooled for Once.

Believed That the Widow, Formerly Kitty O'Shea, Secured Two Hundred Thousand in the Deal.

London, March 24.—In the probate divorce and admiralty division to-day the case of Wood v. Parnell, formerly Wood v. O'Shea, came up before the president, Sir Charles Parker Butt, and a special jury.

The court room was thronged with people anxious to listen to the expected developments. It was anticipated that all the old servants of the late Miss Wood, aunt of Mrs. Parnell, would be arrayed against Mrs. Parnell, as the will contained a codicil in which the deceased lady cut off all the legacies originally bequeathed to the servants, and made Mrs. Parnell the sole heiress.

Much astonishment was caused by the announcement that the case had been settled on terms satisfactory to all parties. This ends a case in which the greatest public interest has been felt, especially since the time that the relations between the late Mr. Parnell and the lady now his widow, became notorious.

The action was brought by Mrs. Parnell (formerly Mrs. O'Shea) to establish a will made in 1888 by her aunt, the late Mrs. Anna Maria Wood. Under this will Mrs. Parnell was appointed sole executrix and universal legatee.

The defendants were Mr. Charles Page Wood and Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, who are some of the next to kin of the testatrix. It was alleged by the defendants and by some others, next of kin, who have intervened, that the execution of the will was obtained by undue influence, and the interveners sought to establish an earlier will of 1883, under which they would benefit.

In the last will in behalf of Mrs. O'Shea provided that the money left to her niece should belong absolutely to her, and this provision is disputed by Capt. O'Shea, Mrs. Parnell's former husband, on the ground that by the terms of their marriage settlement, all moneys subsequently inherited by Mrs. O'Shea were to go into the settlement.

Whether this complication has been adjusted is not known.

The estate involved is worth over half a million dollars, and if the defendants had succeeded in defeating the last will, Mrs. Parnell would still have benefited under the former will, which the defendants sought to establish, to the amount of nearly $200,000.

It is safe to assume, therefore, that the settlement gives her at least this much.

Mrs. Parnell is descended from an excellent English family, through whom this property comes. Her brother, Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, is a great favorite of Queen Victoria, who is friendly to the whole family, for the reason, it is said, that Queen Victoria's mother, when in comparatively straitened circumstances, and at a time when it seemed unlikely that the British crown would come in that direction, received pecuniary assistance from Mrs. Parnell's father.

Had the case gone to trial the defense, through the servants, would have dragged up a good deal about the relations of Mr. Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea (now Parnell) to the testator.

Mrs. Parnell was represented to-day by Sir Charles Russell, Attorney General Webster, Solicitor General Clarke, James Inderwick, Q. C., and A. Shoal of junior counsel, appeared in the case. Mrs. Parnell was not present, much to the disappointment of the crowd. Capt. O'Shea was there, however, to watch his interests. He smiled pleasantly and talked and chatted with his acquaintances. Counsel in the case consulted for about an hour and had a private conference with the judge. It was then announced that a compromise had been arranged and that the case would be disposed of in chambers.

FOUND HIM GUILTY.

Utica, N. Y., March 24.—The jury in the case of Gould, the Albany banker, accused of misappropriating funds of the National bank of which he was an officer, rendered a verdict of guilty.

UNDIVIDED SURPLUS.

Over $26,000,000 in Profits for the Members of the Late Standard Oil Trust.

New York, March 24.—Reports have been busy in Wall street with Standard Oil affairs since the dissolution of the trust. There have been rumors of a big undivided surplus, and the Tribune learns that yesterday there was reported to be as large as $26,000,000 and over above the capital of $95,000,000 in outstanding certificates. Part of this surplus will go as additional capital to the minor companies into which the trust has been broken, and the remainder will go as a cash return to the certificate holders.

Another report was that there would be but 12 linked companies remaining when the trust had been readjusted. It was further said that small holders would not get fractional lots of stock, but would get a certificate specifying the various amounts of stock and the company in which they were. In this way the holder will be able to deposit this omnibus certificate in getting a loan, and it will be in shape for exchange dealings.

HOTEL BURNED.

Baltimore, March 24.—A fire occurred at 12:30 this morning at Mount Washington, by which the Hotel Eldunot was burned to the ground. There were a large number of guests in the hotel at the time, but owing to the heroic efforts of the employes, all were rescued in safety. Loss estimated at $25,000; insurance, $11,000.

A HUNDRED THOUSAND

Democrats in the State of New York

Will Demand That Cleveland be Nominated.

William R. Grace's Committee Hard at Work on Its Plans to Clip the Wings of Senator Hill.

New York, March 24.—The committee of fifty, representing the Cleveland democrats, are vigorously at work, under the direction of ex-Mayor Wm. R. Grace, sending and receiving communications from leading democrats all over the state, and preparing for the state convention to be held April 21 at Syracuse, at which a full delegation will be chosen and sent to Chicago with instructions to support Grover Cleveland as the true representative of tariff reform, and the true democracy of this state and nation.

The committee has sent out many thousands of blank forms for the signatures of democrats who desire Cleveland as the nominee. Mr. Grace said to-day:

"I have been giving my whole time to the work of the committee. We have word from leading democrats in every election district in this city and state. We will send a delegation to Chicago representing the brains and largest business interests and industries in the state."

"You intend, of course, to contest the seating of the Hill men?" was queried.

"Certainly. And there is but one instance on record where a contesting delegation has not succeeded."

"Will New York's delegation be divided that is, will half the Cleveland and half the Hill delegates be admitted?"

"That is probably what will be done. We are going to Chicago with a fixed purpose in view—the nomination of Grover Cleveland, because he is the representative of the democratic principles of tariff reform, the only real issue of the campaign, and one which Mr. Hill does not fairly represent.

"We will have, beside our delegation to the convention, a large body of the leading commercial, banking and mercantile men of this city and state. Ample hotel accommodations have already been engaged for our party, and we will convince the delegates of the other states that Grover Cleveland, as the embodiment of tariff reform and an independent democrat of fixed ideas, is the man who should be nominated, and who will carry the party to victory in November. We will contest the seating of the Hill delegation successfully.

"To convince honest democrats that we are right, we will take to Chicago the bona fide names and addresses of 100,000 democrats of this state who desire Mr. Cleveland's nomination. Our requests for signatures are in the hands of democrats only, and our reports show that two democrats out of every three approached have signed the request. We do not believe that the convention will ignore the request of 100,000 democrats of the Empire state. If it does, it will be a very strange thing indeed. With an array of facts and figures, and as the representatives of sound democratic principles and better elements of the party, we will appeal for recognition in the greatest of democratic councils, and will undoubtedly receive fair play and show the democracy that the nomination of Mr. Cleveland is desired by the democrats of this state, and that he will carry New York if he is nominated. We are not going to submit to snap judgment."

"How about free coinage? Suppose Senator Hill should be bold enough to declare in its favor in order to obtain the support of the southern and western democrats who so strongly desire the free coinage of silver—what would your party do?"

"We would soon convice the convention that Hill could not carry this state nor Connecticut and New Jersey. I do not anticipate such a course on the part of Hill and his friends. Tariff reform is the only live issue, and I have been giving all my spare time and attention to aiding our movement in its favor."

UNKNOWN DEAD.

The Body of an Old Soldier Found Near Fremont.

Fremont, March 24.—(Special)—The dead body of an unknown man, about 50 years of age, was found on the pike a few miles east of this city yesterday afternoon.

He was dressed in a blue suit and is probably an old soldier.

There was nothing on his person to serve as an identification.

CAN'T SLAUGHTER IN CANADA.

Ottawa, Ont., March 24.—In the house yesterday Mr. Sproule asked whether it was the intention of the government, as had been reported, to allow the establishment of an abattoir in Montreal for the purpose of importing in bond and slaughtering United States cattle to be exported as dead meat. Minister of Customs Bowell replied that it was not.

TOLD IN A DREAM.

Indianapolis, March 24.—Judge Brown to-day called the attorneys in the McDonald will case before him, and announced that he would order Mrs. McDonald to submit to an examination before counsel.

This examination will probably be private, but will develop all the facts in relation to the dream theory of Miss Alice Ellis, of Washington, concerning the alteration of the will.

Japanese Government Losing Favor.

The Last Election Resulted in Increasing the Opposition Majority—Chinese Rioting Reported at an End.

Vancouver, B. C., March 24.—The steamship Empress of India arrived here yesterday morning, 11 days and 14 hours from Yokohama and Hong Kong, bringing 250 tons of general cargo, including 200 bales of silk. She had 56 saloon passengers, among whom were Earl Dundonald, Commander C. Woods, R. N., and Prof. Baldwin's theatrical company. She had 300 Chinese and brought 50 sacks of mail.

While entering the harbor one of her sailors, James McGee, of Isle of Man, fell overboard and was drowned.

Advices by mail brought by the Empress of India state that the rising in Nungola is now completely checked, and the Chinese authorities are meting out punishment to the offenders.

Sir John Walsh, British consul at Peking, has been removed to Bucharest, and N. R. O'Connor, consul general at Sofia, has been appointed as his successor.

Sir John paid but little attention to the memorial from indignant and aggrieved British residents of Shanghai, Hong Kong and other open ports, and showed little sympathy with the merchant class.

The Japanese elections are over, and as far as can be learned the majority against the government is increased. Its only members whose political bias can be decided belong to the liberals and progressionists, who united under Count Stagaki and Count Okurma to oppose the cabinet in the last house, but many remain unattached to any party, and only the meeting of the house will show the relative strength of the parties.

Frightful disorder prevailed during the elections in Plandok, of which Count Stagaki, the liberal leader, is a native. The different parties marched and countermarched and fought with guns and swords and other weapons. Many persons were killed, and order was only restored when gendarmes arrived upon the scene.

Count Ito, the father of constitutional government in Japan, resigned his post of president of the privy council on February 23. No cause was given, but it is generally believed that Ito intends to form a new party. The emperor desires and has requested the count to withdraw his resignation, but this he has not done.

The rent in the Fujame Peerless mountain of Japan, which was believed to have been caused by an earthquake, is now found to be an old cavity.

It is shown to greater advantage by reason of the surroundings as they now exist, and only the excited state of the people caused the fissure to be thought a consequence of earthquake.

The foreign residents in Shanghai and Kinkail have held public meetings and unanimously resolved to petition the governments of Great Britain and the United States that pressure be brought to bear on the Chinese authorities to suppress the vile anti-literature published and circulated in Hanan. The leading residents of Shanghai supported the resolution.

SENT TO AN ASYLUM.

Millionaire Page Declared to be Insane.

rip and Overwork Caused His Trouble.

Always Eccentric, His Mind at Last Gave Out and Public Safety Demanded His Incarceration.

New York, March 24.—George Sheppard Page, the millionaire chemist, whose office in New York city is at No. 69 Wall street, and who lives in Stanley, Morris county, N. J., has been committed to the state insane asylum at Morris Plains, N. J.

His affliction was brought about by overapplication to business and a severe attack of grip from which he suffered last winter.

Mr. Page has been for several years a prominent figure on Wall street. He is a man of commanding appearance, standing nearly six feet high, of large physique and a smoothly shaven face. He usually wears a silk hat, and always dresses modestly, but well.

There are few men better known in field sports and fishing circles than Mr. Page, nor has any one done more to advance gentlemanly sports and enforce the game laws. Nearly all his leisure time has been devoted to the rod and gun. He is president of the Chatham Fish and Game Protective association that controls over 10,000 acres of low land along the course of the Passaic river in Morris and Somerset counties, New Jersey, and recently opened one of the prettiest club houses in the state at Chatham.

Mr. Page lived in princely style at Stanley. His estates there embraces several hundred acres, and the house itself is on a side hill overlooking the Passaic river and surrounding country.

Mr. Page was always eccentric. A few years ago he was seized with a temperance craze. He called one Sunday on J. H. McGribben, who keeps a house on the Springfield road near Summit, and, under the pretense of feeling fatigued, tried to persuade the proprietor to sell him a drink. When refused, he abused McGribben roundly. On another occasion he got into a complication with the late Col. Martin, a neighbor at Stanley, over some property, and the case is said to be pending still, although Col. Martin has been dead some time. Mr. Lane, of Summit, says that Mr. Page threatened to shoot him for taking sides against him in a dispute, but afterwards apologized.

It is said in Summit that Mr. Page used to invite newspaper men to his house, and on driving them back to the station would attire himself in knickerbockers and red stockings and carry pistols in his belt, all of which was done for show.

Four years ago Mr. Page differed with Congressman Thomas Dunn English, of Newark. He went to Mr. English's office and annoyed him continually until Mr. English ordered him out. Mr. Page returned with a stenographer. To each of his questions Mr. English would reply in terms more expressive than elegant, and Mr. Page, turning to his stenographer, would say: "There, put that down."

"After he had got sufficient material from Mr. English he bowed his way out, had the stenographer's notes transcribed, and after having thousands of copies of the interview printed, distributed them where they would do Mr. English the greatest injury.

THEY SHOT TO KILL.

Desperate Battle On Chesapeake Bay.

Oystermen and Islanders at War.

Cannon and Rifle Brought Into Use.

Great Excitement Among Tangiers People.

Citizens Object to the Removing of the Oysters From a Reservation and a Bloody Contest Follows—The Details.

Tasley, Va., March 24.—A furious battle occurred Tuesday afternoon between the oystermen in Chesapeake bay. Several years ago some persons residing in Accomack county took up a large tract of oyster ground in Pokome sound.

The oyster men in the neighboring island of Tangier claimed that the planters had violated the law by taking up a natural oyster lock. The courts decided against the planters, who, under an act passed by the Virginia legislature last winter, proceeded to take up the oysters from their reservation.

This greatly enraged the islanders, who determined to prevent it at all hazards. Early Tuesday morning they manned two sloops with a force numbering about 75 men, and proceeded to where the dredgers were operating.

They found 12 schooners at work, and close by was one of the Virginia oyster police boats to protect the dredgers.

The commander of the state police boat ordered the islanders to keep off, and when they disregarded his orders he opened fire on them with his cannon. The islanders were armed with rifles, and soon the firing became general. The dredgers came on deck and fired volley after volley into the islanders, who finally withdrew from the unequal contest.

In the engagement Capt. Thomas Dies, of Pungateague, Va., who commanded one of the dredging boats, was killed, and several of the islanders received wounds.

The fight took place in full view of Tangier islands, and while it was going on the entire population of the islands watched its progress. Many of the women fainted, and the children ran screaming along the shore.

Great excitement prevailed all night Tuesday night, and scarcely any of the inhabitants went to bed.

THE NEWS FROM FINDLAY.

Prohibs Not to Have a Ticket in the Field.

Gas Trusteeship Goes a Begging—Big Damage Suit — Northwestern Strikes a Gasser—General Notes.

Findlay, O., March 24.—(Special)—Wm. McKinnis, the republican candidate for second term of gas trustee has declined to run. He is one of the most business-like and competent members that ever graced the board and all our best citizens will regret this decision of his and hope he will reconsider it. He has made an excellent record and would be missed.

Damage Suit.

Theodore S. Porter, a well known resident of Liberty township, west of this city, has filed suit for $2,000 against the High Explosive Glycerine company and Samuel Kutz, for damaging his fine new residence now in course of erection, by the explosion of nitro-glycerine several weeks ago. The magazine belonged to the above company and was situated on the Kutz farm. Every window in the house was broken and the walls were badly damaged.

Big Gas Well.

The Northwestern Gas company have just drilled in a very large gas well on the Mark Taylor farm section 1, Marion township in what is considered undeveloped territory. The city of Findlay surrendered a number of leases adjoining this farm. The out put of the well is not given, but it is very large.

No Third Ticket.

The prohibitionists of this city held a meeting last night for the purpose of putting a municipal ticket in the field, but they adjourned without doing so, telling the members to use their own judgment in voting for the other two candidates. There will be several townships, however, outside of the city, that will have full tickets in the field.

Will Be Inspected.

Adjt. Gen. Pocock and Col. Howe, of the Second regiment, O. N. G., will be here this evening for a rigid and careful inspection of Company A, O. N. G., of the Second regiment. The boys have been waiting and expecting them.

KANSAS CHARLIE'S DOOM.

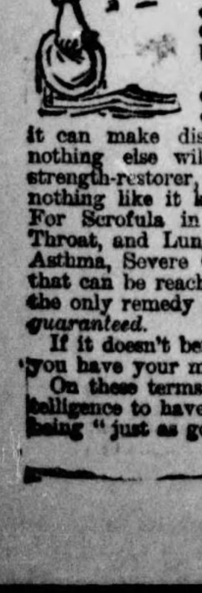
The Governor Will Not Interfere to Save a Boy of Sixteen from Hanging.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 24.—Gov. Barber declines to interfere in the case of Charles Miller, the boy of 16 sentenced to be hanged on April 22. The executive has reached the conclusion that the people of Wyoming wish the execution to take place.

In September, 1890, Miller shot and killed two young tramps whom he met on a cattle car of a freight train near here. The bodies were robbed of $60. It developed that the victims were well-connected lads of St. Joseph, out west on a lark. Miller has taken pride in his crime and calls himself "Kansas Charlie." Twice last year he was in jail breaks and enjoyed liberty a couple of days. In one outing his partner was frozen to death and Miller narrowly escaped the same fate.

OFF FOR ENGLAND.

New York, March 24.—Among the passengers who sailed on the City of New York for Liverpool to-day was Sir George Baden Powell, who has figured conspicuously in the Bering Sea affair as commissioner from the British government.



Recovered—sound health for every consumptive who hasn't delayed too long. There's a positive cure with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Just as it cures the worst of the many forms of scrofula, so it cures, and just as certainly, the scrofulous affection of the lungs that's called Consumption—through the blood.

But, even with this remedy, it won't do to wait. It can't make new lungs, but it can make diseased ones healthy when nothing else will. As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder, there's nothing like it known to medical science. For Scrofula in all its forms, Bronchial Throat, and Lung affections, Weak Lungs, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and every disease that can be reached through the blood, it's the only remedy so unfailing that it can be guaranteed.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

On these terms, it's an insult to your intelligence to have something else offered as being "just as good."

WASHED IN BY THE WAVES.

The Body of Matthew Dawson found in Hutton Lake.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 24.—The body of Matthew B. Dawson, who was drowned with Fred E. Scrymser in Hutton lake near Laramie last October, was found yesterday by two duck hunters. They saw the bare skull less than a hundred yards from the shore point to which Scrymser's body drifted with the sail boat which overturned with the men. The remains were identified by the watch and clothing.

Scrymser and Dawson were respectively president and cashier of the Laramie bank, and the most prominent men in town. Scrymser, who was in Wall street before he came west, was lessee of the rolling mills, employing 600 men. Dawson was a son-in-law of Fillimore, the California railway man.

KNIGHTS TO GATHER.

Tiffin, O., March 24.—A meeting of the Sixth regiment, Ohio brigade, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will be held in this city on Thursday afternoon.

The following cities are in the regiment, and their divisions will be represented by three delegates each: Toledo, Sandusky, McClure, Clyde, Bellevue, Defiance, Bryan, Bowling Green, Fremont, Norwalk, Genoa and Tiffin.

The meeting has been called by Col. E. S. Bryant of Bloomdale, for the purpose of making arrangements to attend the Pythian conclave in Kansas City next August.

WANTS DAMAGES.

Tiffin, O., March 24.—Last winter Mrs. Catharine Leahy, an aged lady, fell on a defective sidewalk in this city, and received serious injuries, and she now notifies the city council that, unless the matter can be amicably settled she will bring action to recover $5,000 damages from the city.

BOUGHT IT AT AUCTION.

ARich Pick-Up for a Western Man.

Deeds and Claims in An Abandoned Box.

Believed That the Owner of This Valuable Property Was Lost at Sea—His Heirs Will Investigate.

Denver, Colo., March 24.—Albert Pool, a purchaser of auction and unclaimed stocks, living at 1814 Central street, has in the direct line of his business brought to light a fortune for somebody.

As a result of this, there is trouble in the mountains for somebody else. The reason of it all is that Col. Henry Altman came to Colorado in July, 1857, and from a number of mining deeds, preemption certificates and other mining papers, seemed to have engaged in speculation in mines.

It would also seem from these papers that he had amassed considerable property and also that he was an exceedingly careful man as to the records of all his movements.

His every action is distinctly traceable from these papers in the possession of Mr. Pool, dating from the day he arrived in Colorado in 1857, up to nine years ago, when seven boxes and one trunk arrived in Denver en route to Maysville, Colo., and here remained, owing to the failure of the owner to make his appearance and further forward them.

These boxes have, therefore, been in the storage-rooms of the Denver & Rio Grande warehouse for nine years, and were put up at public auction on February 24, 1892, by the railroad company. Ninety days is the limit of holding baggage before selling at auction, and it is somewhat remarkable that this particular property was held for a period of nine years before selling.

Pool bought, among other purchases amounting to $1,000, this collection for the sum of $40.

By far the most important part of Mr. Pool's purchase is about 200 pounds of documents and letters which will apparently establish a claim for Col. Altman's heirs, who are said to live in Pennsylvania, to a large fortune. Among them are deeds for mining claims in the Nevada mining district, Gilpin county, and certificates of stock in valuable properties in the oil regions of Pennsylvania. These constitute a part of what Pool has already opened, but there are other bundles of documents which have not as yet been disturbed since Col. Altman bound them together over nine years ago.

Other papers in this discovery show a long residence in London, England, where he seems to have gone from Colorado, probably in the interest of the then new western mining country. The oil stocks mentioned, and which were regarded as specially valuable to the owners, are now believed to be worth some $100,000.

There are 7,000 shares in the Continental Oil company, now consolidated with the Standard Oil company. Among the papers is a mining contract with an English company representing $400,000. Many of the mining deeds are in the name of W. P. Altman, Col. Altman's brother, who has already been found and communicated with.

Henry J. Altman seems to have engaged in all sort of enterprises, railroad construction among the rest. The leaving of these valuable possessions in a Denver warehouse for nine years seems a most peculiar proceeding. It is believed that Henry Altman was lost on his last trip across the Atlantic. Certain it is, however, that his disappearance must have been sudden, or otherwise some one of his relatives would have been apprised of the whereabouts of this property. From the letters found it appears that he was the head of a considerable family, the children of which must now be men and women. The turning up of the heirs and relatives will very probably furnish some interesting facts.

THINK BLAINE FOOLED 'EM.

Canada is Still Discussing Reciprocity.

Wilfred Laurier Thinks Foster Did Not Rise to the Occasion and Made a Failure.

Ottawa, Ont., March 24.—No more important statement has been made in a budget speech in the Dominion parliament, excepting the announcement of the national policy fourteen years ago, than that of Mr. Foster regarding the reciprocity conference with the United States government.

Wilfred Laurier, leader of the opposition, was asked if he would have any objection to saying if there would be any change in the policy of the liberal party in view of what took place.

"Certainly not," he replied. "The liberal party is to-day as strongly wedded to reciprocity—that is, to better trade relations between the United States and Canada—as ever they were and we are as confident of being able to secure the same as ever we were in the past."

"But the statement of Mr. Foster?"

"We have no confidence in Mr. Foster as a diplomat, and evidently he had no confidence in himself of being able to do justice to Canada when he solicited the aid of Mr. Blaine."

In conversation with the other leaders of the party the correspondent found the same feeling.

"Mr. Blaine has yet to be heard from," said one liberal, "and not until then will we know exactly what did take place. In the meantime I cannot believe the door is shut to us against securing better trade relations with the states, despite all that has been said."

GUNS AT THE CHURCH.

An Exciting Time Reported From Little Rock.

Social Complications Lead to a Desperate Affair in Scott County, Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., March 24.—News has reached this city of a fearful shooting affray that occurred near Fuller, in the northern part of Scott county, this state, on Sunday, between Jeff Jones and a young man named Robert Doss.

Doss had been paying his addresses to Jones' daughter against the protest of the old folks. Some time last week the windows of the neighboring church were broken, and Doss and some others were suspected of having committed the offense.

At a night meeting at the same place a short time afterwards, Jones' daughter, who was there, did not permit Doss to go home with her for some reason, and the boys "guyed" Doss about it.

The argument grew hot, and finally Doss was pretty badly used up, losing his mule and hat in the encounter. Just how roughly he was handled is known only to himself and his assailants.

On last Sunday Doss came to the church with a double-barrel shotgun. People who first observed him noted that he was desperate.

He tried to shoot one of the young men who had assaulted him, but the young man dodged him. The others being in the house he tried to get in at the door, but there was such a jam he could not effect an entrance. He kept the people all in front of him, however, during the excitement.

In the meantime, Jones, who was in the house, crawled out at a back window and went home for his Winchester. Returning in a short time, he came up back of Doss and, holding his gun at a rest, commanded Doss to surrender his arms.

Doss turned and advanced upon him. The people were much excited, some shouting to Jones to shoot and others to get behind a tree. He attempted to take the latter course, but before he could reach cover Doss fired.

Jones returned the fire, the load striking Doss in the small of the back near the spine. The ball ranged up and lodged near the shoulder. It was some time before the people knew that Jones was hurt. When Doss had been looked after Jones attempted to walk home, but was unable to do so.

Several buckshot had lodged in his arm and breast, and he is now in a precarious condition. Doss cannot recover.

It is not believed that Doss came to the church for the purpose of killing Jones, but that he was after the men who had abused him. Jones was only trying to preserve the peace. He is a respected citizen of Lewis township, and young Doss comes of a good family.

HOLMAN IN THE RACE.

He is Fixing Up a Presidential Boom.

His Friends Making a Bold Move to Place Governor Gray on the Shelf at Chicago.

Shelbyville, Ind., March 24.—The managers of Congressman W. S. Holman's political destinies claim that he is on a clear road to the nomination for the presidency.

The plan is to nominate Holman for congress on April 12 and later present his name to the state convention for governor, and if he should get that nomination let him decline it and permit the central committee to fill the vacancy.

This will bring Holman prominently before the people, and in case the nomination for president comes west Holman will claim the prestige and his friends will urge his nomination.

The delegation from Indiana will be for Isaac P. Gray, but Holman's friends claim that his popularity outside the state will force Indiana to support him after it becomes evident that he stands a show of getting the nomination.

THE PAIGE BANK.

Painesville, O., March 24.—The excitement caused by the failure of the Paige bank has not abated. Many laboring men and women among the depositors threaten violence to R. K. Paige.

The assignee estimates the bank's assets at $80,000 and Mr. Paige's assets at $200,000. The liabilities are between $300,000 and $500,000.

The Maumee Valley Navigation Company's Annual Meeting.

A meeting of the Maumee Valley Navigation company was held last evening, at Perrysburg. The following officers were elected: President, Walter Brown; vice-president, C. Hoffman; secretary, D. K. Hollenbeck; general manager, S. Canfield. The steamer Wellington R. Burt is being overhauled, and the Peck property at Perrysburg will be fixed up as a summer resort.

FLOWERS PLENTIFUL,

Says a Leading Florist—What Is in Stock with One House.

There will be no lack of flowers for Easter, according to the statement of a popular florist, which is as follows: "We will have 4,000 lilies of the valley, 5,000 Romans, 4,000 daffodills (common and new), 2,500 Narcussus, or sacred lily, 700 pot hyacinths, 5,700 double tulips, 2,350 single tulips, and 1,000 Easter lilies."

The demand for flowers this season has been something wonderful and they have been very beautiful and plentiful.

BOWER GETTING GAY.

Spending His Time Making Reflections on His Competitor.

Henry Bower, the republican candidate for street commissioner is evidently a little rattled. His time is now principally occupied in circulating untruthful statements relative to Louis Steuer, his opponent. Mr. Bower's administration of his office is filled with too many flaws to allow of this conduct, hence it is much better for him to make the race on his own merits without disparaging Mr. Steuer, who is a citizen of unblemished reputation, else he would not be filling the position he now does. Come off, Mr. Bower.

SENT TO THE GRAND JURY.

Commissioner Beckham Commits Two Offenders.

Two preliminary trials were had before Commissioner Beckham yesterday afternoon.

Alfred Hoffman, charged with selling liquor without a license, at Bowling Green, pleaded not guilty, and was released on $300 bail for his appearance at the June term of the United States court.

C. F. Miller, of Sherwood, Defiance county, pleaded not guilty to wholesaling liquor on a retail license, and gave a bond of $1,000 to insure his appearance in United States court of the June term.

WITHOUT MONEY

To Pay the Police Court Officials at the End of the Month.

The present empty state of the city treasury will be felt at the end of this month by some of the republican officials connected with the present municipal government that has brought this condition about.

The corporation prison fund is completely exhausted, and therefore the police court officials will not receive their salaries for this month when due. This affects the police judge, proscutor, clerk and deputy and the three turnkeys.

THE WINCHESTER ASSOCIATION.

The Annual Celebration Came Off Last Evening.

Last evening the Winchester association held its anniversary meeting at Memorial hall. About forty veterans who took part in the battle of Winchester were present, and the war days were lived over again in song and story. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Capt. P. C. Schafer; vice-president, Capt. J. L. Pray; secretary, A. N. Briggs. After the business meeting a supper was enjoyed and comrades Tyler, Dewey, Woffle, Pray, Lattimore, Davis, Faskins and Schafer related reminiscences. It was a most enjoyable affair.

GETTING IN SHAPE

The incorporators of Beatty lodge, K. of P. Building company met at Air Line Junction last evening and completed the organization.

Officers were elected as follows: Directors, G. W. Reynolds, G. W. Harrod, Lincoln Smith, John McHugh, A. S. Mead, Richard Kind, H. C. Nicholas, M. H. Cornell, Wm. Dawson, O. S. Harding, Joseph N. Leroux, James Hendrix. President, G. W. Reynolds; vice president, G. H. Harrod; secretary, Lincoln Smith; treasurer, John McHugh.

Of the $10,000 capital stock authorized over $5,000 has been subscribed. Ground will be broken for the new structure as soon as the frost will permit. It will be a fine building and a credit to Air Line Junction.

The organization has been in charge of and completed by F. W. Rickenbaugh.

THE PATRONS OF INDUSTRY

Still in Session—Viewing the City This Afternoon.

At the session of the Patrons of Industry yesterday afternoon the report of the financial committee was presented and approved. From the report the order is evidently on a sound financial basis.

President Lake made a brief address or rather an informal talk which may serve as his annual address. There was nothing in it of any interest to the general public.

When the session opened this morning a committee of Toledoans, headed by F. B. Losee, extended the hospitality of the city to the visitors and invited them to a drive this afternoon. The invitation was accepted.

The forenoon session to-day was occupied in hearing and discussing the report of the committee on resolutions. The report had only been partly disposed of when the convention adjourned for dinner.

It was decided before adjourning to hold a special session this evening, at which the election of officers will take place.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

60 yards Agra carpet, worth $1.50, for 50 cents yard. 463 Hicks street.

Work was commenced on the new buildings to be erected on the cot factory grounds this morning.

The Toledo Metal Wheel company is building an addition to their factory at Auburndale, 40 by 150 feet.

Mrs. Gregory returned yesterday from New York, where she has been selecting her spring stock of millinery.

The Grand Army committees met last evening, and further arranged for the exercises incident to Memorial day.

Council committees on streets, sidewalks and printing are called to meet this evening, but on account of the near approach of election it is not likely that much business will be done.

John Reilly, who was arrested several days ago on the charge of attempting to pass counterfeit money, will have a preliminary hearing to-morrow before United States Commissioner Beckham.

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London wheat and corn markets open quiet and steady at 3 pence decline on wheat. Liverpool wheat easy and 1-2 pence lower. Corn fair demand.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 568,280 bu, compared with 244,914 bu on the same day last year.

Chicago Bulletin—The stock of wheat in Antwerp on March 1 is computed at 4,816,000 bu, against 6,600,000 bu on January 1, and the floating supply is estimated at 2,800,000 bu, in comparison with about 1,120,000 bu at this time last year.

Dornbusch of March 12 says: "The quantity of corn going to Europe from America to supplement the scarcity of wheat and rye, is unusual. A portion will unquestionably be used for feeding purposes, besides supplying bread for the people, while it is said that the Scandinavian countries, Germany and Holland, are buying corn to a great extent instead of wheat.

Illinois Wheat Crop (Official).—Springfield, Ill., March 24.—Reports to the state board of agriculture on the condition of winter wheat shows the area seeded to be 1,895,146 acres, 4 per cent. larger than in 1891, but much that was plowed was allowed to lie fallow owing to dry ground. Reports from the northern and central portions of the state indicate a very fair average considering the poor start in the fall. The damage by the late cold weather was not great, the snow of the 20th being very beneficial. Southern Illinois reports are less encouraging. It is estimated only 50 per cent. of the crop of 1891 will be raised in Southern Illinois.

The "Farmers' Review" will report some injury to wheat, but not so widespread as feared. In Illinois three-fifths of the reports say outlook still fair to good; others say bad. In Indiana 70 per cent report fair to good; others poor. In Ohio a little worse than in the two preceding states. In Michigan two-thirds report fair and good, others poor. In Kentucky half report good and nearly 40 per cent. fair. In Missouri two-thirds report fair to good. In Kansas one-half report good, one-fourth fair and the rest poor. In Iowa very few report any wheat. Of those reporting, two-thirds give the prospects from fair to good. In Wisconsin not more than one-third report either good or fair.

The receipts of wheat to-day continue large. Minneapolis and Duluth furnish 426,788 bus., and the other five points 147,492 bus.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were, wheat 202,334 bus., and flour to an aggregate of 275,000 bus. The export of corn was 428,279 bus., and of oats 8,962 bus.

English markets are reported herein open, dull and lower for wheat and steady for corn.

It being stated that a branch of the "Patrons of Industry" are in session in this city, therefore be it

Resolved, That this exchange cordially invite the members of that organization to visit the exchange and that a committee of three be appointed to convey the invitation. The committee appointed were Messrs. Blass, Mitchel and Stager.

The Price of Wheat and Wheat Stocks.

It is said "all things work for those who wait." We say, however depressed the prices of wheat may be, the number of writers are plenty who compile up statistics which favor further depression. Just now this feature seems to have assumed a chronic form. Everything is constructed to cast a dark shadow over the future of the market. While we do not intend to write for either the bulls or the bears, it is certainly well to look at both sides.

The popular estimate of the wants of Europe and England per week over and above the average sales of home grown grain, is 7,000,000 bu. To August 1, which is an average period for the new crop commencement, is 22 weeks, and on above estimate of wants the aggregate requirements will be 154,000,000 bu. Our agricultural department estimates the consumption in this country at 300,000,000 bu. per annum. From March 1 to July 1 is four months. The consumption will therefore be 100,000,000 bu. The seed for all spring wheat sowing is 18,000,000 bu., at least, and may be 20,000,000 bu. Stating the case upon these aggregates, and without going into details, will some one tell me where 154,000,000 bu. of wheat is discernible to supply this foreign demand? And yet the bears never tire in stating that the world will go to next harvest with a much greater than average stocks.

Let us look into the present promises for the next crop. Mr. H. Kains Jackson, an English authority of high reputation, gives the following: America a yield below an average on a full breadth. Russia, a poor yield upon an area deficient to an important extent. India, a fair crop, but decidedly inferior to that of 1891. Australia, a deficient yield that leaves a small surplus for export. Hungary, a promise that starts unfavorably in several districts. In France, in some departments many winter killed fields that can hardly be resown in March. In the United Kingdom a backward and irregular crop upon a shortened breadth. Spain and Italy a fair crop. Germany, a fair promise of wheat and a poor one for rye.

With such an outlook, not yet bad, but certainly not one of great expectations, the market of 1892 will find Russia and France attenuated after a year's exhaustion. Germany out of stocks of wheat and rye. America probably without important resources and a yield of wheat 80,000,000 bu. short of the surplus offered to Europe at the end of the crop year in 1891.

The Markets To-day.

The wheat markets have been unsettled, irregular, with narrow limits, and lower. Gossip from other leading markets indicate that foreigners are sellers on this side, and that the load from one set of tired longs is shifted onto the shoulders of another set, with a corresponding expectation of weariness and of selling out. But at some price the men who load up will not be willing sellers. Where will it be? A month ago to-day May wheat in Chicago sold at 93c, and to-day at 80 1-4c. Chicago with her 12,000,000 bu of spring wheat has, more than all else beside, been the cause of the break of 12 3-4c per bu in 30 days. The great wheat bear of Chicago promised to put wheat in that market to 80c, and he has succeeded. We hope he is satisfied. It has reduced the value of the Chicago stock $1,500,000, and we have exported no more wheat than if the price had remained at 93c.

Before the close the markets gained 5-8c.

Corn has been well maintained, and is higher east and west. Foreign markets are reported closing weak.

In New York—May wheat closed 1c and July 1 1-8c lower. May corn 3-8c and July 3-8c higher.

In Chicago—May wheat 3-4c and July 3-4c lower. May corn 3-4c and July 3-8c higher. May oats 3-8c higher.

In Toledo—We have had a very active market in wheat futures, divided about evenly between May and July. There has been a good deal of unloading of long wheat, but somebody wanted it at the prices, and after a sharp decline and large selling the market showed signs of reaching hard pan and advanced. On the call May sold at 89 1-8c to 89c, and August at 84 1-8c. After the call May commenced at 89c, sold down to 86 3-4c, advanced and closed at a loss of 1 1-4c. July sold at 86 1-8@84c, and closed at 85 1-4c, a loss of 1 1-4c. August sold at 84 1-2@85, and closed at 84 1-4c.

Cash wheat opened dull. A small sale was made early at 89 1-2c L. S., the next sale at 88 1-2c regular. Prices further declined, and at 88c the seaboard was a free buyer. The market closed at 88c. No. 3 soft at 87@86 1-2c; No. 2 red hard at 87 1-2c, and No. 3 at 84c.

Corn—No. 2 at 38 1-2c; No. 3 at 38c; No. 4 at 36 1-2c; No. 2 yellow at 40 1-2c; No. 3 yellow at 38 1-2c.

Oats—No. 3 at 28 1-2c.

Clover seed quiet, steady, very little demand or business. Prime at $7.00; No. 2 at $6.75.

Ohio Legislature Continues to Put in Time

And Accomplish But Little Business.

General Information Gathered in the Legislative Halls for the Readers of the Busy Bee.

Columbus, March 24.—(Special)—The house committee on fish culture and game report, after investigation, that nets were destroyed under the Poorman act to the value of $3,000. This is one-third the amount claimed by the owners. The committee desired to have the matter settled, and as soon as the report is made and adopted the money will be paid.

The house has passed Llewellyn's bill protecting employes. It guarantees their rights if they belong to labor organizations; it provides that if any individual company or corporation attempts to coerce employes that may belong to labor organizations they shall upon conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding $500 and imprisoned for not more than one year.

It is said that the late discharge of messengers by the Adams Express company was the cause of the introduction of the measure.

The house this morning passed Mr. Kelley's bill extending the time for one term of court to another for the completing of a contested will case in Erie county. It involves nearly $1,000,000.

Mr. Nichol's bill providing that appointment of trustees in place of an assignee shall operate as a conveyance of title of real estate assigned, has passed the house.

The senate has passed the following bills:

Mr. Clapp—Providing that all manufactured cheese shall bear a label signifying the per cent. of pure butter fat contained therein.

Mr. Pudney—Prohibiting counterfeiting or unauthorized use of labels or other insignias of labor organizations.

The House Bill

Republican senators will caucus on the new redistricting bill before taking action. The apportionment is as follows:

The Bill in Detail.

First—Wards One to Eleven inclusive, Eighteenth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh wards of Cincinnati and the lower townships of Anderson, Columbia, Spencer, Symmes, and Sycamore and Avondale and the Northeast, Southeast, St. Bernard, Bond Hill and Clifton precincts of Millcreek township.

Second—Wards Twelve to Seventeen, inclusive; Nineteenth to Thirtieth, inclusive of Cincinnati, townships of Springfield, Colerain, Greene, Colorado, Delhi, Storrs, Miami, Whitewater, Harrison, and Crosby, and Elmwood, College Hill, Winter Place, and western precincts of Millcreek township.

Third—Preble, Butler and Montgomery.

Fourth—Darke, Shelby, Mercer, Auglaize and Allen.

Fifth—Williams, Defiance, Henry, Paulding Putnam and Van Wert.

Sixth—Green, Warren, Clinton, Highland, Brown and Clermont.

Seventh—Clarke, Madison, Fayette and Pickaway.

Eighth—Hancock, Hardin, Logan, Champaign, Union, and Delaware.

Ninth—Ottawa, Lucas, Wood and Fulton.

Tenth—Pike, Jackson, Gallia, Lawrence Adams and Scioto.

Eleventh—Meigs, Athens, Vinton, Ross, Hocking and Perry.

Twelfth—Franklin and Fairfield.

Thirteenth—Erie, Sandusky, Seneca, Crawford, Wyandot and Marion.

Fourteenth—Lorain, Huron, Ashland, Richland, Morrow and Knox.

Fifteenth—Washington, Morgan, Noble, Muskingum and Guernsey.

Sixteenth—Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont and Monroe.

Seventeenth—Wayne, Holmes, Coshocton, Tuscarawas and Licking.

Eighteenth—Stark, Columbia and Mahoning.

Nineteenth—Ashtabula, Geauga, Portage, Summit and Trumbull.

Twentieth—Lake and Medina counties, townships of East Cleveland, Bedford, Chagrin Falls, Euclid, Independence, Mayfield, Newburg, Orange, Solon, Warrensville, Brecksville, Brooklyn, Dover, Middleburg, Olmsted, Parma, Rockport, Royalton, and Strongsville, and wards Twenty-six and Twenty-eight to Forty, inclusive of the city of Cleveland.

Twenty-first—Wards One to Twenty-five, inclusive, and the Twenty-seventh ward of Cleveland.

Passed the Senate.

The $6,000,000 water works bill for Cincinnati passed the senate this morning, 16 to 14.

Toledo Asylum.

The reorganization of the Toledo Insane asylum was started yesterday by the governor appointing Samuel A. Baxter, of Lima, to succeed himself till April, 1897, and William Geyser, of Swanton, Fulton county, till April, 1896, vice Henry Bohrs, of Henry county. The senate confirmed the appointment of Mr. Geyser, as he is an ex-senator. The other appointment was referred to the committee on benevolent institutions. The institution will be reorganized thoroughly.

Rorick, of Fulton county, will be elected superintendent at once and the trustees will make other changes. Mr. Kerans and Capt. Banker, of Findlay, are candidates for steward, but as Mr. Kerans was steward under Dr. Tobey, it is htought he will be given his old place again.

STEPHEN T. LEWIS,

The Alleged Forger, Caught in Detroit.

He Was Indicted by the Grand Jury on the Charge of Forging Contracts With the Union Publishing Company, of This City.

Stephen T. Lewis, who is wanted in Toledo, was arrested at Detroit last evening.

Lewis was indicted by the grand jury of the January term of common pleas court, of 1891, on the charge of forging contracts with the Union Publishing company, of which he was an agent. He was arrested and released on bail, and the hearing of the case has been continued from term to term since.

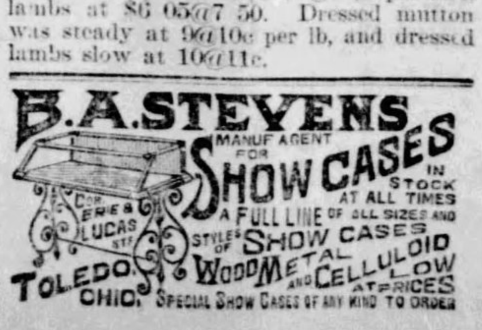
When arrested by the officer in a saloon Lewis tried to escape. The officer drew his revolver and fired a shot which scared the alleged forger into submission, and he was locked up to await the arrival of officers from Toledo.

Wabash to St. Louis.

New York, March 24.—Cattle—Receipts 877 head, including 28 cars for sale. The market was dull but steady. Sales of native steers at $4 00@4 65 per cwt, Colorados at $3 95, bulls and cows at $1 90@3 50. Dressed beef was steady at 6@8c per lb for native sides. Shipments to-day 5,480 quarters of beef; tomorrow 828 beeves and 85 sheep.

Calves—Receipts 1,235 head. The market was 1-4c per lb lower. Sales of veals at $5 00@7 75 per cwt.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts 2,540 head. The market for sheep was steady; lambs weak. Sheep sold at $5 00@6 75 per cwt. lambs at $6 05@7 50. Dressed mutton was steady at 9@10c per lb, and dressed lambs slow at 10@11c.



ASTONISHED NO ONE.

Wonder Was He Held Out So Long.

A clerk fainted from nervous exhaustion on returning home. Overwork and nervous strain broke him down, with the addition of Spring Debility so prevalent at this season of the year. The same applies to thousands of overworked clerks, machanics, shop girls and others who see themselves growing thin in flesh, pale and sallow, and find themselves losing their physical strength and strong nerve. They grow weak, nervous, tire easily, have dull feeling head, malaria, wake tired mornings, lose their appetite, become constipated, feel miserable, old. They are rapidly breaking down, and should use immediately the great nerve strengthener and blood invigorator, Dr. Greene's Nervura. It is the best Spring medicine in the world, and will give a clear head, strong and steady nerves, vigorous strength of body, and thus enable them to keep up to their work.

The Grip, also, has left in its train thousands of weak, nervous and debilitated sufferers who should use this great strengthener and restorative tonic if they desire to recover their former health and strength.

"I had indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation, cold feet and hands, sleepless nights and was very nervous. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura, and now have no more indigestion or dyspepsia. My nerves are strong, have no more palpitation, no cold feet or hands. I sleep well and get up refreshed. In fact, I feel I am myself again, ALL DUE TO DR. GREENE'S NERVURA. I am positive everybody will be benefited by it.

CHAS. A. TITTSWORTH,
243 Seventh St., Jersey City, N. J."

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist, in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 14th Street, New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write to him about your case or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Do you have to register this spring? If so, remember that Friday and Saturday of this week are the registration days.

The Dominion of Canada is asking that a Canadian representative be attached to the British legation at Washington. This seems so proper a thing to be done, the only wonder is it was not done long ago.

To-morrow and Saturday are registration days in Toledo. Those who must register should not fail to attend to their duty. Register, and then vote the democratic ticket.

Congressman Rayner, of Maryland, says of the political issues of 1892: "The republican party stands for protection to monopoly, and the democratic party for protection to the people." This is telling it all, and in few words.

The democratic ticket as printed at the head of this page is correct, as certified to the board of elections. The city government would be much better managed if all the democratic candidates should be elected.

Fulton county enjoys the distinction of having two trustees of the Toledo asylum, Dr. Campbell and ex-Senator Geyser. Dr. Korick, of Fayette, is on the slate for superintendent, when a change is to be made.

Republican managers will this year, it is said, send out "a tariff novel," as part of their educational literature. This is no new departure. The tariff tracts and primers of the high-taxers have always been romances of the wildest and gauziest character.

Mr. George B. Hull is the democratic candidate for water works trustee. He is one of our best business men, prudent and careful, and if elected, as he probably will be, he will serve the city with ability and to the satisfaction of all taxpayers.

There is a tariff tax of 45 per cent. on reapers and mowers. These implements of agriculture are sold to foreign buyers less that tax, which means at considerably lower price than they can be bought for in the home market. The same is true of plows. How do farmers like that kind of protection?

The Czar is getting ready for war with his neighbors. He would better hang up his old gun and use his treasure to buy food for his starving people. The charitable countries of the earth do not purpose to continue their contributions to enable him to go on with his schemes of despotic ambition.

Munhall's "Balance Sheet of the World" says: "Every day the sun rises on the American people it sees an addition of $2,500,000 to the accumulation of wealth to the United States, which is equal to one-third of the daily accumulation of all mankind outside of the United States." It is the uneven distribution of this daily two millions and a half that causes all the scrambling and the discontent.

Leading Scotsmen in parliament have introduced a bill providing for the creation of a Scottish parliament. It will undoubtedly receive the cordial support of the liberals, while it increases the awkwardness of the political situation for the already embarrassed conservatives. The cause of the Irish people is also advanced by the action of the Scottish members, for home rule will not be granted in one part of the United Kingdom and refused in another. Thistle and shamrock must have the same nurture, this time.

There is no warrant for the Blade's attack upon Mr. Theodore Schmitt, the democratic candidate for councilman in the Second ward. Mr. Schmitt is a business man of character, and he stands high with all classes. He did not seek the nomination, but has accepted it, and his friends will now see that he shall be elected. The brutality of the Blade's conduct toward democratic candidates is proverbial and is well understood in this community. The more it abuses Mr. Schmitt the more votes he will receive.

The democrats of Toledo were never in better position than right now. Thoroughly united, with as good a ticket as can be made, with a capable, aggressive committee, the party ought to succeed. The odds of politics are against the democrats in Toledo, but our superior ticket will draw hundreds of independent votes, therefore democrats are hopeful of success. The taxpaying interests of Toledo demand a change of local government, and the best way to secure practical reform is by the election of the democratic ticket this spring.

Thomas Bombastes Reed has been home on strictly private business. He has been setting up the pins to secure his selection as a delegate to the Minneapolis convention. He also desires to be chairman of the Maine delegation, and he will carry along a private wire attachment for attracting the presidential lightning his way. He has not been able to keep his ambitious projects to himself, though he is very shy of talking about them. With Secretary Blaine and the two senators from Maine against him he may well be. Mr. Reed's ambition undoubtedly overleaps itself. He will not be the choice of his party. The easiest man in the country for the democrats to defeat will not receive the nomination at Minneapolis.

The Washington Post reviews the eight-column yarn lately told in the Philadelphia Inquirer, the story of the "heroism" of Senator Quay in defeating, at the risk of his life, the effort of New York democrats to capture the electoral vote of the state at the last presidential election. As the Post says the story "very closely resembles one of the clever inspirations of the author of Arabian Nights," and as the Post recommends, "The senator should follow up this ten strike by suing the New York World for libel." The Pennsylvania senator is diligently gathering up all sorts of side-issue indorsements and vindications, but every achievement of his in this line is met, the country over, by the same advice: "Sue the New York World for libel." The World invites it, and the senator may be sure he will never be truly vindicated until he does it.

The sub-committee of the senate finance committee, which have been prosecuting investigation into the relation that wages and a high protective tariff bear each other, and the workings of the McKinley law, generally, refuse to issue bulletins of information, preferring to present a finished report, which, according to promise, will soon be forthcoming. They selected 221 different articles which it was agreed covered the ordinary outfit of an average family of "the plain people." The cost of building material that goes into houses is considered. The result of the systematic inquiry will comprise nearly five millions quotations, covering all parts of the country, and extending, in time, over the period of operation of the recent tariff law. The expectant people will hope that the report will throw a flood of light on the hotly debated question. But, as the Bee has said, it is doubtful if the knowledge they have been able to gain shall exceed that collected during months and years by newspapers and tariff reform associations.

Whatever may be the outcome of the proposition to pay doubtful certificates of indebtedness with good bonds of the city, one grand good result will follow the circuit court's decision: The trustees are personally liable for every debt contracted outside of legal authority. This will make the trustees more careful hereafter. It has been the practice to create any kind of debt to suit public clamor. The sentiment has been a more powerful impellant that lawful expedients. The trustees have acted upon the impulse of the moment and have undertaken to justify their actions by an extra declaration of loyalty to the cause of city gas. They will not do so hereafter. They will look upon every proposition in a legal aspect, and do what they are authorized, not what they desire, alone. The circuit court decision will prove a good balance wheel for the guidance of the gas machinery.

A RESULT OF THE CHILEAN WAR.

One outcome of the Pan-American congress, held in this country a little time ago, was the establishment of the "Bureau of American Republics." It has been a high-toned and expensive affair from the first, conducting its business on the most elaborate of carved oaken desks, over the richest of Wilton carpets and Persian rugs. Considerable luxuriousness was permissible, as the habitants of the sunny south are supposed to love warmth and elegance in surroundings, and the South American republics, together, promised to pay half the bills of maintenance, if the United States would provide for the other half, which it has cheerfully done, appropriation having been promptly made therefor. Chief Curtis gets a salary of $5,000 a year, and visits the South American lands in the winter season, at the expense of the government.

A Washington reporter says, "a nice gentleman is allowed $150 a month to enable him to study the Spanish language and a salary of $3,000 a year to compensate him for his labors in that direction, while the translating is being done by those who have learned the language at their own expense." But these little matters are expected when the billion-dollar party is managing affairs. And patience has been exercised because an amount of information has been gathered and disseminated that would be of real value if there were hopes of an expanding trade with the South American republics.

But the Chilean episode has blasted such hopes. Not only do the disgusted and independent little South Americans allow President Harrison to tax their products out of the United States by refusing to come to his terms of trade, but they decline to pay their assessment for the expenses of the bureau; and congress, with Mr. Holman's voice sounding in the lead, will refuse further appropriation, under these circumstances. The total contribution to the expense of the institution, received from the South American republics, is $7,211. The United States has already expended $36,000, and must have another appropriation forthwith or, in the expressive parlance of the hour, the bureau is busted. The Argentine Press says:

The conflict between the United States and Chile cannot but cause a feeling of anxiety throughout the South American continent, for we do not know when our time may come for an ultimatum from the North American colossus. Whatever may be the outcome of this matter, it will at least serve as a warning, and indicate to the republics of this continent what they may expect from their Saxon neighbor. The lesson should not be lost upon us.

The Argentine Republic has decided to appropriate no more money to maintain the bureau of republics. A Rio Janeiro journal expresses the sentiment: "Latin America for Latin Americans and the United States for herself."

The Chilean episode and the prohibitive trade dictum have outraged the sensibilities of the Southerners in a most grievous manner, led, as they were, in that auspicious season of oratory, banquet and excursion, to believe that magnanimous Uncle Sam held out to them both hands full of good intentions, that only waited opportunity to blossom into beautiful deeds. It is very evident that the Spanish-speaking republics resent the attempted coercion and the petty jingoism of the Harrison administration, and the cause of Pan-Americanism glimmers fainter and fainter in the growing distance.

How Secretary Blaine must gnash his teeth over the wreck the president has conspired to make of his pet schemes for capturing the southern continent, rehabilitating his party, and writing his own name high on the list of the world's immortals.

NEW YORK'S SIDE SHOW.

New York is determined to have a side-show at the World's fair in the form of a grand review of the navies of the world in Hampton Roads and New York harbor. A board has been organized in Washington to promote this project, which is, incidentally, provided for in section 8 of the grand charter, which reads:

The President is hereby empowered and directed to hold a naval review in New York harbor in April, 1893, and to extend to foreign nations an invitation to send ships of war to join the United States navy in rendezvous at Hampton Roads, and proceed thence to said review.

And New York is as determined as ever that somebody else shall do the hustling. The city hasn't raised funds yet to buy an urn and goblets for the cruiser named in its honor. It has a memorial arch, and a Grant monument, unfinished, on its hands. Gotham's enterprise and patriotism seems to be confined to its newspaper offices.

The clergy of Baltimore have decided that hereafter representatives of the press shall be excluded from their Monday morning meetings. One of the reverend gentlemen interviewed on the decision said that "the reporters put in all the spicy things we say;" another objected to the reports because "funny and naughty things said were put in type, while the good things were left out;" still another is afraid that from the reports "the people are getting the idea that our elders ought to go to the penitentiary." In no instance was the claim made that the reporters did not write truthfully, so far as their reports went. Which being so, it would seem the ministers had two alternatives. One was to decide not to say any more spicy, funny and naughty things. They have chosen the other.

"To him that hath it shall be given" is scripture fulfilled in the case of Mr. Carnegie. After becoming enriched by the tribute of his fellow countrymen, decreed him by unjust laws, he now becomes possessed of a discovery by which the process of steel-making may be greatly reduced in cost. And still this world-commanding industry must be protected by tax money taken from other industries.

THE BEE INQUIRY BOX.

Editor Bee—To settle a bet will you give the total vote, by parties, for representatives in the Fifty-second congress? A. bets B. that the democrats were in the minority counting all votes cast.—M.

A. has lost his bet. The total democratic vote was 5,083,298; total republican vote, 4,282,922; democratic majority over republican vote, 800,376. The combined vote for republican and all other than democratic candidates was 4,814,748; leaving the democratic majority over all 268,550.

I saw something about the descendants of Pocahontas in the Bee. Please inform me if there are or were any descendants of the daughter of Powhatan. The statement is disputed here.—F. A. Wheeler, Metamora, Fulton county, O.

The Indian maiden Pocahontas, daughter of the chief Powhatan, was born in Virginia about 1595. She early exhibited a friendship for the English, and the reputed saving of Capt. John Smith's life by her has always been one of the romantic records of the early history of the country. In April, 1613, with the consent of her father, she married an Englishman named John Rolfe, having previously received in baptism the Christian name of Rebecca. In 1616 she sailed with her husband for England. In that country she was received with great courtesy, and was presented at court, but her heart pined for the beautiful woodlands of her childhood. She died in England, when on the point of returning to Virginia. She left one son, Thomas Rolfe, who was educated in England, and then came to the colony of Virginia, where he married and was a man of influence. The Harrison, Bolling and Randolph families of Virginia are descendants of the family he there founded, and consequently, of Pocahontas.

Dorr's Rebellion.

What was Dorr's Rebellion, when did it occur, and what came of it?—Student.

The Dorr rebellion occurred in Rhode Island in 1842, and is named after its leader, Thomas William Dorr. Rhode Island, in becoming a state, retained the form of government under which the colony was chartered, and according to which the right of suffrage was vested only in owners of a specified amount of real estate and in their eldest sons. By 1840 two-thirds of the male population of the state were debarred from voting by this provision. In that year Mr. Dorr, a member of the state assembly for Providence, led an effort to extend the suffrage, but his proposed law received only seven votes out of seventy. In the winter of 1840-41 mass meetings in favor of the reform were held throughout the state, and a convention of delegates was called which met in October, 1841, and prepared a constitution, amended as to suffrage qualification. It was claimed this constitution was indorsed by a majority of the legal voters of the state, and in January, 1842, it was declared in force. The claim that the constitution was legally adopted was disputed, and two state governments were elected. The "suffrage" party elected Dorr governor, and the "charter" party elected Samuel W. King. The "suffrage" legislature sat at Providence for two days only, early in May. The "charter" legislature assembled at Newport. The latter passed laws defining treason, and authorized the governor to proclaim martial law. Twice in May Dorr and his followers attempted to capture Providence and its arsenal, of which the regular state forces had possession. Both times they were defeated, but no blood was shed. May 28 Dorr left the state, going to Connecticut, then to New Hampshire. A reward was offered for his arrest, and he returned and gave himself up for trial. In March, 1844, he was convicted of high treason and sentenced to imprisonment for life. He was pardoned in 1847, and died December 27, 1854. A new constitution, framed in November, 1842, was formally and legally adopted by the people, and went into effect in May, 1843, which extended suffrage by reducing the property qualification.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The states necessary for democratic success can be best held by prompt tariff legislation.—Macon Telegraph.

The officeholders' machine in Indiana has given President Harrison the delegates from his own state, but it cannot give him the electors.—N. Y. World.

If the Michigan plan was good enough for Oliver P. Morton, it ought to be good enough for the ordinary republican statesman of to-day.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The lamentable fact that this government has no diplomats has never been more painfully apparent than during this Bering Sea negotiation and during the Chilean trouble.—Providence Telegram.

Coals are being carried to Newcastle. Large shipments of coal are being received in England from the continent of Europe, and the United States will probably be drawn on heavily if the miners' strike lasts a few weeks.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

The reciprocity scheme which Mr. Blaine persuaded Mr. McKinley to include in his tariff bill has proved to be a humbug and a swindle. For this reason foreign countries decline to reciprocate, and the president has undertaken to make commercial war upon them.—Memphis Appeal-Avalanche.

When Gen. Harrison, in his letter of acceptance, said (as quoted by ex-Gov. Ames) that the republican party would "modify the rates," there was not a voter in the country who believed that he meant it would increase the rates. In fact, had such an understanding been proclaimed, neither would Harrison have been made president nor would the McKinley tariff have been passed.—Boston Herald.

The democratic congress will unseat a democratic congressman, from New York, and give the seat to a republican, because they believe the latter is rightfully entitled to it. And they are right in giving the seat to the man elected. This is nothing strange for a democratic congress, but you would be as old as Methuselah before you could see such an occurrence in a republican congress.—Tiffin Advertiser.

The Yale students who broke up a theatrical performance at New Haven on Saturday night were guilty of the most idiotic, if not blackguardly outbreak yet attributed to college rowdies. One of the students threw a snowball that stunned one of the women in the cast of Fabio Romani, and the same actress was afterward insulted in the street. The reputation of Yale will seriously suffer if this outrage is not promptly rebuked, and in a substantial way.—Brooklyn Times.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That the workingmen are well represented on the democratic city and ward tickets.

That George Le'bius is developing great qualities as a campaigner. Go it, young fellow.

That a cross at the head of the democratic ticket is all that is necessary this spring.

That the election law amendment enacted by the legislature does not affect Toledo.

That Toledo commandery of Templars has a special conclave this evening for Red Cross work.

That Shafer and Sprague are no match for Schmidt and Kohn in the Second ward, as will be seen very soon.

That there is nothing the matter with George B. Hull for water works trustee; he's all right by a large majority.

That the gas trustees did not enjoy their rest very well last night, the circuit court decision being rather too broad for comfort.

That the election booths will be open for the registering of voters Friday and Saturday. If not already on the books, get there.

That arrangements have been made for a good time at the O. Y. C. Friday night, and members and guests will be on hand in force.

That the secrecy maintained by the Patrons of Husbandry, in session in the city, does not benefit the organization in the eyes of the public.

That the city got another black eye in court yesterday on account of a defective sidewalk. The amount would have built several lines of good walk.

That there is a good-sized scramble for the position of chief engineer at the water works pumping station, made vacant by the death of Adam Grauf.

That there is not that air of confidence in the republican ranks which has been noticed in previous campaigns, and there is very good reason for the glum feeling.

That Louis Steuer can be found attending to his work every day, while his opponent, Bower, is making a canvass in all quarters of the city. Stand by Steuer, voters.

That Sixth ward residents do not take kindly to Frank Hake, the well-digger, who wants a seat in the council for the purpose of pushing artesian wells and securing the contracts.

That the bill for a fire marshal and building inspector is still on the hooks in Toledo, with but little prospect of its reaching Columbus in time for action at this session of the legislature.

That John H. Puck will sustain every proper effort put forth to place the police force in the best possible condition. He is not a candidate with a mission simply to bounce the chief, as he is too big a man for such small work.

That Dennie in the First ward is awaiting the fulfillment of ante-caucus promises made to him by Dan Miller, as inducement to the former to withdraw from the race for councilman. It is said Dan has no desire to meet Dennie. How is this?

THE SPRING CAMPAIGN.

George Hull Named for Water Works Trustee,

And Ed Simonds Will Hustle for Councilman in the Third Ward—Something About Louis Steuer—Notes Here and There.

There is general disgust in republican circles all over the city. The ticket is sure of defeat.

Nominees for the school board, Messrs. Kohn, Zirwas, Hathaway and Wilson, are reasonably sure of election. They are all good men.

Thos. O'Neill, nominated for assessor in the Third ward, is a respected resident of Toledo, and is just the man to fill the place for which he has been selected.

E. D. Scrafford has taken the place of J. W. Russell as the democratic candidate for assessor in the First ward. Mr. Scrafford is competent in every respect.

Register on Friday and Saturday. Registrars will be at every polling booth in the city from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., and from 4 to 9 p. m. both days. Register!

Chairman Sullivan and other members of the city committee are arranging the preliminaries of the campaign. Register and vote, and the whole ticket will be elected.

Frank Coleman and Tony Bay will look after the interests of the Fifth and Ninth wards for the next two years. Their good work in the past is evidence that they will be well attended to.

The democratic city central committee has nominated Mr. Edwin D. Simonds for the council in the Third ward. Lamb and Simonds will prove an invincible team even in the rock-ribbed Third.

Ex-Councilman George B. Hull has been placed on the ticket made vacant by the declination of Clarence Armstrong for water works trustee. Mr. Hull is a prominent business man, is acquainted with municipal affairs, and will be the next trustee without doubt.

The present civic election gives the republicans who are dissatisfied with the ring management of their party an opportunity to put a quietus on further efforts in this line. The city will be the gainer by a complete and overwhelming defeat of republican candidates for all positions.

Phil Hassenzahl's ripe judgement was so well exercised on the ordinance fixing the time for paying 12 cents per thousand, that instead of this rate for five years, Toledoans will have an opportunity to settle for the luxury at a higher rate. This act alone should be sufficient to close his public life.

Republicans of the Second ward are so dissatisfied with Shafer, their nominee for the council, that an independent movement is on foot, and another man will be named. Too bad to go back on Moxie's side partner, Shafer. A better plan would be for Mr. Sprague to retire from the school board ticket and alloy Moxie to succeed him. There are some great republicans in the postmaster's ward.

A friend of Louis Steuer, democratic nominee for street commissioner, writes the Bee relative to him, as follows: "The democrats of the city have chosen the best selection ever made in the person of the well known and popular young candidate, Louis Steuer, to represent them for street commissioner in the spring campaign. As newspaper comment will not define the qualities of the man, the public at large are requested to judge for themselves. The position which the young candidate holds at present, his amiable disposition and his business-like attitude has gained for him many friends and admirers who will stand by him and will gain for him the greatest victory ever achieved in the ranks of the democratic party."

THE HARBOR APPROPRIATION FOR TOLEDO.

To the Editor: One member of congress, the Hon. Wm. E. Haynes, has earned the thanks of this community for the appropriation for continuing the work on our straight channel, recommended by the river and harbor committee of the house of representatives. The aggregate of the bill may be reduced, but we shall share our proportion with the fate of the bill. The work of Col. Haynes in the committee is deserving of credit. It is the second large appropriation he has secured. Some man may say "he has simply done his duty," but the same duty performed by another might not have produced the same result.

It would be well for Toledo if Col. Haynes could continue to represent us, but I suppose it is in order now to gerrymander him out and a republican into the office. Yours, etc.,

DENISON B. SMITH.

Stirring and Radical Talk on Social Purity

At St. Paul's M. E. Church Last Evening—The Social Purity Conference Concludes Its Labors.

The closing session of the social purity conference was held in the auditorium of St. Paul's M. E. church last evening, presided over by Miss Olmstead. Some fine musical numbers were rendered by members of the Cecelia quartet, Mrs. Farrar, leader. The solo, "Hear Us, Oh Father," was sung by Miss Susie Love in most effective manner. Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Louise Eck, and Miss Olmstead reviewed the work of the conference, dwelling especially upon the endeavor which was its chief purpose to institute some practical work in Lucas county along the line of social purity reform.

Miss Olmstead introduced the lecturer of the evening, Mrs. Clara Hoffman, of Missouri, as one who was not only eloquent, but was also not afraid to talk the truth. Mrs. Hoffman's address quite bore out the introduction. She is a forceful, eloquent speaker, with a deep and rich voice capable of charming inflections, and from the beginning of her talk the audience was alert and attentive because the unexpected characterized the turn of her remarks. As for her fearlessness, it is safe to say so many truths upon a vital but too much ignored question were never before told to a mixed audience from the pulpit of any church in Toledo. It would yet be a prejudiced and narrow person who would say that in the telling any law of propriety or canon of good taste was violated.

Our Legacy to the Future.

Nations, Mrs. Hoffman said, sow the wind and reap the whirlwind. We have done it once as a nation, and we shall do it again. We sowed the wind when we left the blot of slavery on our new nation. The pulpit was silent about it while the whirlwind gathered, and Christians in the churches "sat and sang themselves away to everlasting bliss" while men and women were bought and sold and families sundered. We did not care for the sowing, but when we reaped the whirlwind of civil war, oh, how much we cared then.

So a man whether intentionally or unconsciously prepares the legacy he leaves. A good name, or a record of shame; good habits and traits to be transmitted, or the contrary. "We each," says Oliver Wendall Holmes, "resemble an omnibus, in which rides all our ancestors." Man reproduces in his children traits of character, tastes, habits, appetites, tendencies. Heredity is a chain of steel.

The influence of environment and of association are not to be underrated. Our country is sodden with disreputable municipalities. There is a respectable veneering, but underneath our cities are rotten with dens of infamy, saloons, bawdy houses, and gambling dens whose ways take hold on death.

What are our churches doing? They are evading great and vital questions. What are our colleges doing? The hardest towns, from ocean to ocean, are our college towns. Yet what vital need of strong workers and good work. Nothing is so easy to propagate as weeds. They come without cultivation, and it takes cultivation to keep them down. So with the evil and vicious tendencies of human nature.

The Bible says, "The iniquity of the father shall be visited on the child even to the third and fourth generation." This is called a hard saying. But throw away your Bible and look out upon the world, and your own eyes will show you this is a law of nature and it never fails to work.

Why is the limit of evil consequences "the third and fourth generation?" Because vice will cause a family to run out by that time. Virtue is the only warrant for long life and continuance of a family race. Impure parents cannot give life to pure children, and vice feeds upon and destroys itself. And yet we excuse a young man for "sowing his wild oats," and believe he can do it and then settle down to be a good citizen and a good father. We don't make the same allowance in a woman's case, but transmission of evil is as certain to come through the father as through the mother to the child. "Be not deceived. That which a man sows shall he also reap." If he sows to the flesh, he reaps corruption; if to the spirit, life everlasting.

Mrs. Hoffman gave some forcible illustrations, based on good authority, of the transmission of diseased conditions of mind and body to children where parents had violated laws of nature, and her deduction was that drunkenness and licentiousness are the first and foremost factors in degrading and destroying life.

We have been afraid, she said, to face the fact that our habits determine the condition of the child. Religion to the body is as essential to righteous living as any spiritual truth. Do you think if men had this gospel of the body rightly learned they would go round puffing, puffing, puffing, until no pure air is left; spitting, spitting, spitting, until the very earth is defiled; drinking, drinking moderately but habitually? If they knew the effects of those habits upon their children, do you think they would form the habits?

The lecturer was very plain in her talk upon the violation of laws of chastity within the marriage relation, claiming that the condition of purity is more often violated between married people than in other relations, both because it is safer there and because people do not understand that a law of God and of nature can be violated in that relation. But it is because this law is so often and so outrageously violated that children come into the world abnormally sexed, cursed with abnormal passion; they come, not as gifts from God, but as accidents, incidents of lust, bearing the mark of the beast.

Mrs. Hoffman pleaded eloquently for reform in environment, reform of individuals in their study of and obedience to the laws of right living, reform in our public schools, churches, Sunday schools and prayer meetings. Her warning is that the legacy we prepare for our children if we evade the laws of social purity is one that will destroy them and ultimately the nation. She closed with the old but never worn-out story of the conductor who, failing with every effort to save his train from destruction, lying beneath its wreck, gasped out to those who would have helped him:

"Never mind me—put out the signal for the other train!"

For the coming train, freighted with our boys and girls, the plea was made that men and women would live lives of self-control and abstinence, refraining, in the marriage relation as well as out of it, "from fleshly lusts that war against the soul."

In the course of her remarks Mrs. Hoffman, with much sarcasm, paid her respects to "our little postmaster-general" for sitting in judgment on Count Tolstoi's great book, in which the gospel of the Bible was preached, while works like Zola's go unchallenged through the mails.

Hark! hark! 'tis SOZODONT I cry.
Haste youths and maidens, come and buy.
Come and a secret I'll unfold.
At small expense to young and old.
A charm that will on both bestow
A ruby lip, and teeth like snow.

In preparing for the next siege of Paris the French war department has taken steps toward the construction of an immense establishment in the city for the preservation of meat by freezing. Similar establishments on smaller scales will be attached to the forts encircling the capital. The cold air will be supplied to all from a central station operated according to a new compressed air system.

A very romantic marriage lately took place in Montgomery county, North Carolina. A young man obtained the license, secured the preacher and took him immediately to the presence of his intended. He found her in the kitchen making up dough. The young fellow did not give her time to clean her hands and arms, but had the preacher tie the knot at once. The preacher made quick work of it and sent them on their way rejoicing.

AN HONEST BOOMER.

He had come a distance of 12 miles on horseback to have the editor of the local paper write and print a circular for him. As I happened to be in the office at the time, and as the editor happened to be off for the day, shooting delinquent subscribers, it fell to me to take in the "job." The man was the founder of "Queen City," out in the prairies. He was not only a founder, but was an honest, truthful man who could not tell a lie.

"Put it down to start off with," said he, "that the climate is salubrious. I've lived over there for two months, and haven't had more than a dozen shakes of ager. Any spot out this way where you don't shake every other day is salubrious right up to the top notch."

"Yes."

"Population has increased 100 per cent. in a month. I was all alone for the first month, but my brother has been with me for the last four weeks. Honest increase, you see."

"Yes."

"Number of buildings has doubled in the same time. I had a shanty by myself and Sam has put up another. It's plumb square. I don't propose to do any lying in this circular."

"I see."

"Likely to be a great railroad center," he continued. "Sam and I have talked it over and we can't see why a railroad should want to run anywhere else."

"Very well."

"Bound to be a great manufacturing center. That's Sam's idea, and as I never knew him to lie I have accepted it as truth."

"I've got it down."

"All the privileges of schools and churches. Of course, we haven't got any just yet, but they are coming. Sam picked out a lovely site for a church yesterday, and I have reserved two blocks for school houses."

"Yes."

"Certain to become a great distributing point for the west. I haven't paid much attention to that myself, but Sam has been figuring for over a week. Sam is straight, and we can let it go that way."

"Well?"

"Sales have increased 100 per cent. in two weeks. I've sold a lot to Sam, and another to a fellow who did the surveying, and I'm willing to make affidavit to it. We don't want anything in this circular to deceive the public."

"No; what else?"

"Public parks. I've reserved four of 'em, as you can see on the flat. Then I offer 100 sites free to manufacturers."

"Yes."

"Population will increase 40 per cent. in the next month. Sam is going to bring over his wife and children, and perhaps you'd better put it 600 per cent., for he's got ten children that I know of."

"Very well."

"Let's see. Now, then, the surrounding country will support a large agricultural population, and everything grows spontaneously. No floods—no drouths—winters very mild. Lands will grow any sort of crop, and a cash market close at hand."

"Anything else?"

"Well, now wind up with a sort of an appeal to the overcrowded and poverty-stricken east—come out here for health—come and make yourselves a home—come and enjoy all the privileges, etc., etc. Go strong on that. Throw in all the pathos you can. Tell 'em to come while land is yet cheap—health and wealth awaits 'em—no overcrowding—not one death since the city was founded—poor man's paradise and all that."

"And is that all?"

"That ought to be enough. Just figure on 10,000 printed in red ink, and I want 'em by next Tuesday. If there is room you may add that three different lines of street cars are already proposed, the water supply is unlimited and that the city is negotiating for an electric-light plant. That's what Sam says, and Sam wouldn't lie about it. Ten thousand in red ink, on good paper, and put in all the cuts of foundries, colleges, railroad cars and churches you can find around the office."—New York World.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Seth Lowe, the youthful president of Columbia college, is a man of somewhat portly figure, with the general appearance of a prosperous merchant or banker.

The Fair residence at San Francisco is not to be sold, but will be kept as the San Francisco home of Mrs. Oelrichs and her sister, who will occupy it next season.

Thackeray's daughter, Mrs. Ritchie, has in the press at Macmillan & Co. a series of sketches called "The Light-bearers," the same being devoted to Tennyson, Ruskin and the Brownings.

Col. Willim Henry McIntosh of Deer Foot, Minn., a veteran of the war of 1812, chops his own firewood and bathes at dawn seven days a week in water from a spring near his solitary habitation.

The venerable J. W. Bradbury, of Augusta, Me., is prostrated with paralysis at Asheville, N. C. Mr. Bradbury was born in 1805, graduated at Bowdoin in 1825, and was a United States Senator from Maine, 1847 to 1853.

They say Thomas Nast, the great cartoonist, grows younger as the years pile up their burden on his shoulders. In his New Jersey home at Morristown he is sometimes seen cantering about on horseback like a boy.

The new minister to Ecuador, Rowland Blennerhassett Mahaney, is a young man and a brilliant scholar. While a student at Harvard he had a serious controversy with President Eliot, in which the latter came out much the worse for the treatment he received.

R. G. Dyrenforth, Uncle Sam's rain-maker in ordinary, is known respectively to his various circles of friends as Colonel, General and Judge. He would like most of all, however, to have Jove's ancient title of the "cloud-compeller" applied to him. Dyrenforth is really a lawyer.

Lucy Kooper writes from Paris that Mrs. Deacon was not a very sympathetic person to the world at large. She was in no way brilliant or intellectual, but she made up for the absence of these qualities by being very snobbish and very vain. She had but little to say and said it at some length. But society pronounced her desirable and society's dictum could not be gainsaid.

Dan McCarthy at the People's Next Week.

A Week With the Wilburs—Tangled Up To-Morrow Evening—His Nibs Drawing Well.

One of the greatest successes in picturesque Irish-American comedy-dramas, since the late Dion Boucicault made his fabous success in "The Shaugraun," has been "The Cruiskeen Lawn."

This drama from the pen of Dan McCarthy, telling its story of Ireland as it is, in plain, simple terms, has scored an unlimited triumph wherever produced this season, and is to-day one of the biggest money winners on the road.

It deals with the adventures of flesh and blood people; is full of humor and pathos, and contains all the elements that go towards making an ideal picture of the Emerald isle. It is produced by a company of unusual excellence; it is staged in the most superb manner, and during its interpretation a number of pleasing specialties are introduced in the most natural manner imaginable.

The comedy element is strong, and the dramatic denoument at times thoroughly intense.

The leading character, that of "Dublin Dan" is essayed by that extremely clever delineator of Irish character parts, Dan McCarthy. Mr. McCarthy has a pleasing personality, a sweet voice, and nimble feet. He is, beyond doubt, one of the best dancing comedians on the stage today. His songs: "My Irish Queen," "Hands Across the Sea," "McCarthy's Ball," and "The Portrait of My Mother in Ireland Far Away," never fail of the most enthusiastic encores.

"The Cruiskeen Lawn," taken as a whole, is as pretty a production as has been seen in the city this season. It will be given at the People's all next week.

Tangled Up at Wheeler's.

An attraction which appeals to the very best element of theater goers is announced at the Wheeler opera house, Friday evening, when the De Lange-Rising Comedy company will present the great laughing success, the roaring comedy, entitled Tangled Up. The company comes direct from Cincinnati, where both play and company made an enormous hit. The play is not a farce comedy but a clever adaptation from the French, and is described as a rattling, bustling skit with pure, clean fun, and devoid of vulgarity or horse-play.

His Nibs The Baron.

His Nibs The Baron continues to draw well at the People's. The piece has many good points and seems to give satisfaction. The specialties are all of them good. Especially worthy of mention is the singing of Miss Marie Clayton. She is a tall, handsome, graceful woman and sings Boom Ta Ra in a manner that catches the house. The Laziold sisters in their mirror dance do one of the best acts ever put on the People's stage.

Opera Next Week.

The Wilbur Opera company will appear at Wheeler's next week every evening, and every afternoon except Monday. Popular prices will prevail and the result will doubtless be standing room only at every performance. The Wilburs have always been great favorites in Toledo and they always do their best to give a good performance when playing here.

"SHE COULDN'T MARRY 'THREE'"

This play is presented by one of the cleverest companies in existence, every one of them being especially selected for their adaptability in portraying the character they represent. The star, Miss Lillian Kennedy, is the brightest ingenue soubrette in America, and in this comedy she has a role which gives full scope to her wonderful versatility. She is supported by a company which includes her brother, Mr. Jno. J. Kennedy, one of the cleverest singing comedians before the public; Mr. E. P. Sullivan, the powerful romantic actor, and a large company, including a number of prominent artists; and as might be expected from such a star cast of theatrical celebrities a great performance is presented.

JUSTICE ENRIGHT

Ties a Knot On the Stage At Dixon's

Last Night in Front of the Somewhat Mixed Audience—It Was a Novel Affair.

A wedding in the upper castes is generally described by the penny-a-liners with frequent allusions to 'the brilliant lights," "the dreamy music," "the ever-changing scene," "handsome women," etc. etc. A description of the wedding that took place on the stage at Dixon's theater last evening would not be complete without resorting to the above cast-iron, boiler-plate clauses, for the lights were as brilliant as the one lovely electric arc light could make them, the music was dreamy enough to put one to sleep, the ever-changing scene was there—at least the ever-changing two scenes were there, for the theater has two scenes. The handsome women were there, too—that is, they were handsome enough, and in fact there were a good many things there that one wouldn't find collected at any other wedding under the sun. It had the charm of novelty, to say the least.

To a select few the following invitation was sent:

Joseph Sagstetter,
at the Standard Theater, Wednesday Eve., March 23, 1892.
C. N. Dixon.

This is a strictly private affair.

The 400 must have been there, for the house holds about that number, so you can see that it was select.

The ceremony was preceded by the usual entertainment that was a kaleidoscopic jumble of first part with ladies in the circle, serio-comic vocal contortions, "down-the-lane-and-over-the-hill-under-the-chestnut-tree" songs, with the break-neck dances that go with them, the singing of Down Went McCloskey by a female dwarf, and generous thumping on the floor by the audience every time McCloskey went down, good singing, bad singing, indifferent singing, and then the whole thing over again, for Justice John W. Earignt, who was to perform the ceremony, was a little late, and the company had to fill in the time.

At about 11 o'clock the orchestra united in a grand clash, and the curtain went up on the bridal party. Justice Enright was given his cue, and he walked on the stage to thunderous applause. He opened his book and the ceremony proceeded.

"Joseph, do you take this woman?" etc.
Voices in the audience—"We do."
"Sadie, do you take Joseph?" etc.
Voice in the audience—"You bet."
"I now pronounce you man and wife," etc.
Voice—"Next."

Then the groom kissed the bride, and the band played Jakey Mendelssohn's wedding march.

A private reception followed in the wine room. There were some well-known Toledoans there, too. For instance, st—st—st—what's his name? um—er—you know who, and—ah—um—oh, what you call him? and er—er, well, never mind, they were there, anyway, but were modest about having it spread about.

The bride and groom made a very good looking couple, were fashionably dressed, and seemingly very happy. They will go to New York on their wedding tour. Manager Dixon set up a wedding feast, and it was a very lum-te-tum affair all round.

Age Will Tell.

SOME GOOD ADVICE.

A Lady Correspondent Writes Us In Confidence—What We Have To Tell Her.

Some Suggestions of Value to Any Lady.

(From the Ladies' Home.)

To the Editor:

I am a woman, and I presume no more subject to blues, crying spells and despondency than most women, but I must say I feel depressed very often. Men cannot understand us at such times or why we feel as we do—women can. Men call us weak—we are not. We are delicately made, and have tender and fine sensibilities. We may be gentle but we are not weak. There is no greater error than to think that we are. Being as we are we have nerves, and very fine ones, too. What man would care for us if we did not have fine nerves? But is that weakness? What I feel interested in and what I write you about is how I can make my nerves which are delicate, a little stronger. I don't want to change them, I only want to help them. They are quick to perceive all the fine and nice things in life; I want them so they will keep on doing this, but leave me stronger after it is over. I want to go to a reception or a garden party and not feel half dead the next day—what can I do? If you will answer me through your columns I will thank you, and it may help other women who may be just as I am.

Yours,
GERTRUDE GRANVILLE.

Dear Young Lady:

Your question is hard to answer. If it were not, most women would be happier and healthier than they are now. Every atom of a woman's body is filled with nerves, and it is just because they are so delicate and acute that women suffer so. Women have higher pleasure than men and keener pain. They cannot change their natures. All they can do is to help them and keep them healthy. We do not pretend to tell you how to do this. Many ways have been advised; few are good. We do know, however, that a careful and constant use of a pure nerve tonic is a great assistance. We also know that the only discovery of the present day which is admitted to be superior and can answer this purpose, is called Paine's Celery Compound. There have been so many instances where women who have been weak and nervous, who have lost color and attractiveness, and who fret so that happiness was impossible, have been restored to beauty and health by its use that we unhesitatingly advise you to try it. It may not perform a miracle—few things do—but it will certainly make you feel younger, fresher and happier if you carefully follow its use. Of course we presume that you live carefully and that your habits of life are regular. With these conditions you need have no fear for your future health, happiness and life.

DOCTORS FRANCE AND OTTMAN,
Formerly of New York, now the Celebrated Examining Physician of THE FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo
Dr. Ottman, Saturday, March 26.
Dr. France, Wednesday, April 13.
Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the Burnett House from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.
The Doctor describes the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.
The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the State Incorporated with a Capital of $300,000.00.

DR. OTTMAN, the Celebrated Examining Surgeon of the

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,
38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.
DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession
CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.
IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.
DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.
TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.
MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.
PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.
EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.
Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.
WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.
Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE. Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

TOLEDO RAILROADS

Have Been Reques ed by the Freight Committee

To Make Known How They Stand on the Matter of the Griffin Switching Bill — Other Railroad News

A circular was issued to-day by the Toledo Freight committee in which it was stated that it was about time that the Toledo railroads took up the matter of the Griffin switching bill. The officials of the different roads were requested to present their views of the matter to the committee as soon as possible so that some united action could be taken as to the policy the railroads would pursue.

Clover Leaf Earnings.

The earnings of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railroad for the third week in March, 1892, were as follows compared with the same week of last year:

Week, 1892	$40,198
Week, 1891	32,667
	7,531

A Pennsylvania Rumor.

Anent the 2-cent bill pending in the Ohio assembly comes the rumor that the Pennsylvania railroad is about to reduce the fare on all its lines to 2 cents per mile.

Ohio Central Lines.

The earnings of the Ohio Central lines for the third quarter of March, 1892, compared with the same period of last year, were as follows:

Toledo & Ohio Central.

Week, 1891	$26,396
Week, 1892	21,914
Decrease	$ 4,482

T., C. & C.

Week, 1891	$6,173 24
Week, 1892	5,375 50

Cinders Here and There.

General Passenger Agent C. C. Jenkins, of the Clover Leaf, is at St. Louis to-day.

General Manager A. G. Blair, of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, has returned from Pittsburg.

General Manager J. M. Ferris, of the Ohio Central lines, returned from Cleveland last night.

A meeting of Toledo post, G. A. R., was held last evening, and it was finally decided to go to Washington via the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad.

There is some talk of the Lake Shore putting on a train to connect with the New York Central's Empire State express, the fastest train in the world.

THE WARM SUNSHINE

Will Make Base Hits Ripe Enough to Pick.

The Big League is Jealous of the Prosperous Outlook for the Western—General Sporting Notes.

"A few more days of sunshine," says Manager McGregor, "and base hits will be ripe enough to pick." The work has commenced on the ball park and by the time Toledo returns from the first series it will be ready to receive the enthusiasts.

Tickets to the ball games will be sold at convenient places in the heart of the city, so that patrons can go direct from the cars to the stands and avoid the inconvenience of the usual rush at the gate.

Green-Eyed League.

One feature of the contract system in vogue in the Western association appears to work an undeserving hardship upon many players. For instance there were half a dozen or more who signed contracts with President Williams and have since been notified that their services will not be needed. This does not smack strongly of justice.—Cleveland Leader.

The above, from a supporter of the league whose clubs signed 25 men with the expectation of releasing nearly half of them each season after all clubs are full and no employment can be found, does not come with good grace.

Toledo Boys.

The Sporting Goods Dealer has the following to say of a well known Toledo boy: "Charles J. Gramling ex-mayor and one of the leading cyclists of Iowa City, Iowa, spent a week in this city recently, buying goods for his house. He says Iowa wheelmen are preparing for a grand tournament, to take place this summer, which is intended to be the finest affair of its kind in the west. Charlie is a typical westerner, being able to lasso a prairie steer with as much ease as he can ride a mile in 2:20. He was shown New York while here by his cousin, Mr. A. J. Getz, the genial manager of the New York branch of the Gendron Iron Wheel company."

Mr. H. Quinlan, of this city, is also connected with the New York branch of the Gendron company.

Notes.

Nagle goes to Indianapolis.

Milt West wants to sign with the Western.

Bad weather has forced St. Louis to in-door practice.

Charley Morton wants to release McGoirk and Katz.

Dell Darling, the Brotherhood star, has signed with the Western.

The Reds will find Toledo a pretty clever lot to tackle.—Times-Star.

Billy Harrington, who will pilot the Hoosiers, has captured seven penants in his day.

Ollie Pecord will captain a nine to play against the Toledo next week. Blue and Bolan will be the battery.

The class of ball played in the Western association this year will be an eye-opener to the base ball public. It is going to be gilt-edged.

Old Cy Sutcliff, notwithstanding he led the American association batting last season, had to get in out of the moisture under the Western's protective pinions. Old Cy will grunt and disport himself behind the bat for the Apostles this year.—Omaha Bee.

NOTHING AS TO POPE.

That is As to Where He is At the Present Time.

Judge Millard Believes Him Insane—Some of His Eccentricities Brought to Light.

There are no new developments shedding any light on the whereabouts of E. A. Pope, the missing insurance agent.

That the man is unbalanced, and has been, is demonstrated by the following facts given to a Bee this morning, in conversation with Probate Judge Millard:

"I am fully convinced that E. A. Pope has been mentally unbalanced for more than three months last past. I base my opinion on evidence I have in my possession at the present time. Shortly after Mr. Pope disappeared, his wife, while examining his clothes for any possible clue as to the man's strange actions, came upon over a half dozen unopened letters in the inside pocket of one of his coats. These letters are from the different insurance companies which he represented, as can be determined from the business cards printed on the outside of the envelopes. There is also a letter from his father among them. The postmark on the letter from his father shows that he received it in February, and others were received even before that. When a man of Mr. Pope's business ability neglects important business correspondence in this manner, and in connection with subsequent developments, there is no doubt in my mind but what he is insane."

GETTING IN LINE.

The Sugar Trust Companies Forming the Combine.

Philadelphia, March 24.—The sugar refining plant of Harrison Frazer & Co. was formally transferred to the American Sugar Refining company yesterday, the consideration being $10,000,000, one-tenth of which was paid in cash and the remainder on exchange of Sugar trust certificates for Harrison Fraze & Co. stock.

The announcement did not create much surprise in local sugar circles, as it had been predicted for several days. The only effect that it had was that of raising the price of Sugar trust stock on the several exchanges.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

Debate Under the Auspices of Joan of Arc.

"Stray Thoughts" at the Colloquial Club—Day Nursery Meeting—The Isabellas—Other Announcements and Notes.

On Saturday evening will occur the postponed debate for which Joan of Arc assembly, K. of L., has arranged. The subject is, "Which is most beneficial to woman, suffrage societies or labor organizations?" Mrs. C. Q. Murphy will present the arguments for suffrage, and Mrs. A. P. Stevens for labor. Each speaker has been given 30 minutes, Mrs. Murphy having the opening, and also closing the debate. Another half hour will be given for remarks by any present who desire to take part, and then a vote will be taken upon the question. The meeting will be presided over by Miss Clara Speckhardt.

The members of all women's organizations are cordially invited to attend, as well as all ladies and gentlemen who may think the entertainment of the evening will prove profitable or pleasant. The meeting is in Clark's hall, on Cherry street, near Summit, and will open at 8 o'clock, sharp.

The meeting of the Catholic club in Friendship hall this evening promises to be of more than common interest, and it is hoped the members will all be present.

To-morrow afternoon, at the Law kindergarten rooms, Central Congregational church, is the fortnightly meeting of the Woman's Colloquial club. The paper for the afternoon is upon "Stray Thoughts," Mrs. Rakestraw, essayist. The question box feature of the club, which is very acceptable, will be continued. All women are cordially welcomed to these club meetings. Meeting hour, from 4 to 5:30 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the Ohio Suffrage association, which will be held this year at Salem, May 25-27, promises to be a very important and successful one.

The members of the Isabella association will soon be called upon to vote upon the question of what shall be done with the $40,000 already raised for a club building in the world's fair grounds. The directory have abandoned the contest for admission to the grounds. One proposition is to use the money to put up a boarding house near the grounds, to be open to members of the association only. The association has 300 members in Toledo.

TWO ATTORNEYS

Give Opinions of the Circuit Court Decision

On the Natural Gas Bond Case—Suits to Recover Claims Can be Filed.

The decision handed down by the circuit court yesterday morning, in the natural gas bond case, has created considerable comment in local circles, and opinions are many and varied as to the possible outcome.

If the situation was tangled up before the decision, it borders onto a hard knot at present, and just how it will be untied is a problem dark and deep.

T. H. Tracy, associate counsel for the city in the case, in conversation with a Bee on the subject this morning said: "The city will appeal the case on error to the supreme court at once. The only point decided by the court yesterday morning is that the contracts in form are illegal, but there is no decision, and the court refused to pass upon the question as whether or not the creditors are not entitled to pay for the work and material furnished, but simply held that the outstanding contracts are illegal, and that the city has no right to issue bonds to pay them.

"As to the personal liability of the gas trustees, that question was not passed upon by the court, and could not have been, as that point was not at issue in the case. The court referred to a section containing such a provision in certain cases, but did not refer to it for the purpose of showing that the gas trustees were personally liable.

The creditors were not made parties to the suit, and of course can bring civil proceedings in common pleas court against the city to recover the amount of their claims.

"At present, however, they have not determined whether they will establish such proceedings or await the action of the supreme court. In case, though, that the supreme court affirms the decision of the circuit court in this matter, such action will be commenced in common pleas by the creditors."

It is very probable that the legislature will be petitioned to come to the relief at this crisis, and authorize the city to issue bonds to pay the debt.

Barton Smith, while speaking to a Bee as to this point, said: "It is a very grave question whether the legislature has the power to authorize the issue of bonds to validate this illegal indebtedness."

"HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF,"

And so does Hood's Sarsaparilla in the remarkable cures it is continually accomplishing. If you will give this medicine a fair trial it will do you good.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet efficiently.

The New York Mail and Express is led to believe that the Oxford Iron and Nail Co. at Oxford, New Jersey, closes down next month for an indefinite period (throwing 800 men out of employ), because "the democratic legislature of that state is making laws under which it will be possible for the republican manager of the company to be systematically persecuted." Brave man, to close out his business for fear of what democrats may do. Isn't his business under the protecting wing of the high tariff law? What can the wicked democrats do to harm it?

If you want to enjoy your meals strengthen your digestion with Simmons Liver Regulator.

President Benjamin Harrison has two names and no more. This is not up to the American average, for the American parent usually bestows three or more names on his offspring, and it sometimes seems the less of anything else he has to give the more names are given. However, the president has only two, and each of them is spelled with eight letters. Some one with not overbright intellect points to this as indicating Mr. Harrison will have eight years in the White House. An exchange asks if this is offered as a strong argument for four years more of Harrison. Probably not. But what other argument offered for the four years more is any stronger?

The Rochester Herald, heretofore republican with slight mugwumpian leanings, goes onward and upward in its course. It has changed hands and becomes a straight democratic exponent of politics. Always bright and readable in spite of its wobbling, it will now march on with steady step under the new and better banner. Mr. Clarkson can take another spasm because "all the noteworthy New York journals are democratic in politics."

A stitch in time. Take Simmons Liver Regulator and prevent sickness.

ANOTHER BIG DEAL.

Eight Blocks of the Hicks Farm Addition

Sold to a Toledo Syndicate for $33,000 and Will be Speedily Improved—Manufacturers to be Encouraged.

Another big real estate deal has just been consummated, and the papers clinching the same passed to-day.

The property involved consists of eight blocks in Hicks' Farm addition, opposite the rolling mills in East Toledo.

The purchase was made by a syndicate consisting of the following named gentlemen: A. D. Stewart, R. B. Session, W. S. Daly, R. H. Brinkerhoff, S. M. Heller, of Napoleon, and A. K. Detwiler, who conducted the sale.

There are 43 acres in the tract, and the price paid is $33,000.

The property will be platted and improved at once. The company will take steps to locate a factory or two on the site, and negotiations to this end with several substantial concerns are pending.

A very elegant but quiet wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mr. James Blass, when Mrs. Minnie Blass Hinckle and Mr. Simon Grischott were united in marriage by Rev. S. G. Anderson. Little Miss Gertrude Hinckle acted as maid of honor, making the scene a very pretty one. The happy couple went to St. Louis, and will return the first of next week, when they will take up their residence in Vienna flats. Mr. and Mrs. Grischott were the recipients of many elegant presents. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Percher, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, Mr. Grischott, the Misses Alice and Bertha Baker, Messrs. Geo. Mills and Ed Witker, Mr. and Mrs. Chapin and Miss Chapin.

Last evening the Crescent club gave its annual banquet and party at its rooms in the Chamber of Commerce. This is a very popular club, and its select parties are always very enjoyable. The members are: J. H. Potter, president; Frank Whartenly, vice-president; J. D. Hurlbut, secretary; A. H. Kruger, treasurer, and Geo. Rayman, L. S. White, Wm Bell, Chas. Johnson, A. Johnson, Wm. Cleary, Frank McHugh, M. G. Gill, H. Pickard, Wm. Frederick. The ladies present were the Misses Bray, Lovett, Hurlbut, Roth, White, Kruger, Pike, Bell and Paulmey. The next party will be given at G. A. R. hall on Monday evening following Easter Sunday.

IN ITALY

Before they got Sapolio, the proverb ran—"The pan says to the pot, Keep off or you'll smutch me."

If your grocer sends you anything in place of SAPOLIO, send it back and insist upon having just what you ordered. SAPOLIO always gives satisfaction. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. Everything shines after it, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.

THIRTEEN KILLED.

San Salvador, March 24.—By the derailment of a train at Sonsonate yesterday, 50 miles from this city, 13 persons were killed and 30 injured. The wreck is the most appalling that has ever occurred in Central America.

Are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Very small; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging. Try them.

FOR WAR PURPOSES.

Paris, March 24.—The French government has purchased the Isle Du Levant, off Cape Bonet, near Toulon. Strong fortifications are to be erected on the island for the protection of the entrance to the Toulon harbor.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

There are many remarkable successes on the road this season, but none exceed the popularity enjoyed by the latest New York success, "She Couldn't Marry Three." Press and public accord it an ovation wherever presented. The scenic effects are superb, the story an intense and interesting one, unlike the many unreasonable and unnatural plays with which the public are surfeited. It is full of hearty laughter, bright and catchy music, the most sensational climaxes.

The company is one of the strongest on the road, the scenery the most magnificent ever built, and as the curtain rises on each act, prolonged applause attest the public appreciation of each beautiful stage picture. The great scenic artists, Messrs Daniel Crimmins and Herbert Speck, feel justly proud of their work on this production.

HEAVY FAILURE.

Montreal, March 24.—L. O. Grothe & Co., cigar manufacturers, have assigned with liabilities amounting to $80,000.

For strengthening and clearing the voice, use "Brown's Bronchial Troches." "I have commended them to friends who were public speakers, and they have proved extremely serviceable."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

LABOR.

The ditch digger works ten hours a day and shovels three or four tons of earth for $2. That's labor. Your labor will be light if you use "BUCKEYE" Soap. Our lady agent will call to take your order.

"John D. Rockefeller," said a prominent oil broker to a reporter of the New York Journal, "is a man who has consistently stuck to one purpose—that of controlling the oil market of the world. He has never allowed his attention to be diverted into other channels, however tempting. Whatever money he has is in Standard Oil, and every cent has been made in the same business."

"Does he not speculate at all?"

"I never heard of his doing so. He confines his attention solely to Standard Oil, keeps that one iron in the fire and never takes his eyes off it. That is the secret of his success. His brother and Mr. Flagler are in the same boat with him."

John D. Rockefeller started life as a clerk at $25 a week. That was at Cleveland, O., in 1863. He and his employers went into oil in the early days and gradually extended their operations. Everything he touched turned to gold. Money made money, and as fast as he got money he utilized it in extending the scope of his operations. He organized the great trust in 1870, and it is through his efforts that it has attained the giant size of to-day. It is a close corporation, absolutely controlled by four men and run by John D. Rockefeller.

Of course, the Rockefellers own land and houses. But these are as a mere flea-bite compared with what they own in stocks of the various feeders of the Standard Oil Trust. They live in beautiful mansions in town and country, but have always held aloof from society, sticking closely to business.

John D. Rockefeller's income is probably nearly $7,000,000 a year. Up to the present time he has used nearly all of it in conquering other fields. But to-day he is like Alexander—the world, or the oiley part of it, is at his feet; but he does not cry for another to conquer; at least, not so far as anyone knows. He is a Baptist and has given $2,500,000 to the Chicago University.

HOW TO BE HAPPY.

If all the actual physical wants of men and women were regularly and completely supplied, and their powers intelligently directed, their vital, natural and animal functions would be performed easily and perfectly, and less disease, physical pain and mental suffering would result.

To prevent disease, preserve health and prolong life, are the objects to be obtained in successful medical practice. Drs. France & Ottman have made the phenomena of functional and organic diseases the study of their life. Early realizing that disease is discord, and health concord, they use their best of skill in so prescribing for their thousands of patients as to restore concordance of functions, and overcome destructive forces which undermine constitutional vigor. No person whose case has baffled the skill of their family physician should fail to consult Drs. France & Ottman, who have few, if any, superiors as skilled experts in functional and organic diseases.—Journal.

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo, Saturday, March 26. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett House, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

Through Shabby Clothes Small Vices Do Apear

To the Young Men of the City:

We have put in stock the past week, since Mr. Mockett's return from New York, many new lines of FROCK AND SACK SUITS that have been made to our order, expressly for the young men of the city. They are all of STANDARD MAKE, FIT LIKE A CHARM. Cut in Proper style, and they are made from the same class of fabrics that the swell tailor shops of the country are making their high-priced suits from. If there is any difference in excellence of workmanship, style of fit or finish, it is in our favor, while the difference in the price (which is material) is in yours. To match our productions you would have to pay the tailors about twice as much, and then you could not or would not get a better suit.

To Give You Some Idea We Quote You a Few Price.

Black, Tan or Brown Cheviot Suits
For $10, $15, $18 and $20.

New Shades and Colorings in Scotch Fabrics
For $10, $12, $15, $18 and $20.

Fine Black Clay Worsteds (with flat binding)
For $15, $18 and $20. (THINK OF IT).

Many Popular and Stylish Fabrics for $10 a Suit.

Gentlemen: We tell you that there is no necessity to go to some high priced tailor and pay $30, $40, or $50—for the same kind of cloths we sell for half the money. We can show you more styles to choose from than they, and we can give you a perfect fit and at the same time save you from 30 to 50 per cent.

Our Fine Ready-to-Wear Clothing is the Best Made.

Should you select a suit from our stock that we cannot fit you with—we wil make you same kind of suit (to your measure) without extra charge.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

We would again caution our country friends against getting into the wrong store through mistake—satisfy yourselves you're in Mockett's before you buy.

Our Numbers Are—218--215--217—Summit Street.

You never heard of Mockett selling goods under any other name than his own, but there is a certain firm whose inherited instinct for the touch of gold is greater than its regard for truth or justice, and this firm is constantly telling strangers that their place is Mockett's—Webster says, "a person who knowingly utters a falsehood" is a LIAR—and Webster's pretty near right every time.
